BAD,

[Reality Check] Christians are Not the Ones Going Around with Machine Guns, Grenades and Bombs on Fridays Attacking Islamic Mosques. But this is a regular 'happening' in many Islamic Countries for Muslims to Attack Christian Churches on Sundays. Especially in Pakistan and Indonesia. In Indonesia over 20 years 1000 Christian Churches were in-fact attacked. In these "ATTACKS" People were Murdered and buildings destroyed. Think Of It: That is one Attack a Week, Every Week for 20 Years. So is there a pattern here? Some reasonable people think so.

no lie chris still your expaned quote does not contain any admission that I like cock the stament quoted is made in the ypothetical

if you you were literate then youd relaive this fact

you don't understand english so you don't in any event it has yet to be established that anyof of this is relavant to RRAP

JB,

This has nothing to do with "GOD" [.]

This has to do with the Reality of the World that We Live In Today -and- Bringing up something that happened 4-to-6 Hundred (X100) Years :
Just means that you or anyone can not Win the Debate on the Merits of What Is Happening Today
-and- Have to resort to bringing up a historical fact as justification the present day actions of Terrorist.

Oops Did You Forget That They Are Terrorist ? ~ RHF

Oh - That's Right for You and the Apologist Democrat Liberals and One World "Kumbaya" Dreamers the Events of 9/11 -are- An Inconvenient Truth
- 9/11 Happened and will Happen Again

35. Morkie Moron Proves RRAP Trashing Is ALL ABOUT HIM!

Well, well, well...

Morkie's proclaimed for years that the condition of the NG is somehow my fault, and he is in no way culpable for it's present condition.

I laid out for the last 6 weeks simply due to being bored with The Chassell Putz, but to also prove a point...All those weeks gone, and Morkie simply found a new victim for HIS tirades. The targets change but the rhetoric is exactly the same.

So...lessee...Now this "Dloyd" is somehow responsible for getting credit card and other on-line accounts hacked...?!?!

Bountiful Bovine By-product.

Morkie's already proven over and over that he's an idiot when it comes to keeping his mouth shut in public forums, and I have no doubt whatsoever that Morkie abused his "wife's" credit information in unsecure websites...No doubt for more illicit on-line sexual encounter attempts...Guess the "wifey-poo" isn't coming up off the booty anymore, eh? Tired of the trips to the drug store for Prep H and Tucks.

Morgan, you ARE the moron I've attested to all these years, and your "1", "2', "3", etc spamposts to try and dominate the NG only prove it. I have no doubt that you will have tried to hide this post behind yet another of your silly re-tasks and will no doubt trash the NG with dozens of re-cycled posts and cross-posts...

You can't help yourself...You're mentally ill...Still...

This is an unmoderated forum.

"on topic" or "off topic" is determined by the response to the original thread by any potential respondant.

In this case, Morkie Moron dragged it off-topic in only 1 post...

As if we doubted he would do differently?

No, they were a totally Christian political group who had an agenda of religious persecution based on the feeling that they were superior to the members of that group.

DE - So the NAZI's "were a totally Christian political group"

I believe that there are many Christians and Christian Groups would would beg-to-differ-with-you that the NAZI's were a 'christian group'. ~ RHF

RRAP was trashed by years of His use (and others) trying to balckmail

the truth is my sex life is at issue because robeson et al went hunting and tried to blackmail me about something they found out and that I do not conceal. I am bisexaul and would try most anything at

when he blackmailed me on te subject I outed myself to the NG expecting a slight flutter and the we would move on

instead Steve escalated to deatrh threats and began his now 9 year

his threats and harrassment never stoped even when I abseted myself
from the NG for roughly 5 yeas but the prep for the fight to finaly

The "trash" belongs to you and your compatriot liars of the

I said nothing of gay bashing, Nazis or Jews, Morkie. Just Morkie paranoia.

And AGAIN the LYHING about anyone having to "go hunting", Morkie. You rub it in everyone's facer...No one had to hunt for anything. And it was NOT me that "outted" you, Fatboy.

Ahhhhhhhh yes...More "I Am The Victim Of Threats" route.

It doesn't work Morkie.

Not even the people who are your "friends" back you up on this and have told you "no dice" if you tried to draw them into your stupid game.

When will you learn?

> I have always adknowlede my responibility for this my mistake was in

There's nothing "too honest" about you, Fatboy..

You've lied about military service. You've lied about your educational credentials. You've lied about your accomplishments in Amateur Radio. You've lied about your marital status. You've lied about being a mental health patient. You've lied, you've lied and lied again.

You've BRAGGED about lying and seem to think that MORE lying will get you out of the lying you've been caught in over and over.

It doesn't work, but you keep on trying.

> something I will be pasing to my son when he is old enough to

The only thing I dare say you'll "pas to your son" will be the instructions on where to buy industrial sized contaiers of KY, Morkie.

And tell me...When did Michigan allow gay couples to adopt?

More ineptness...More silliness. Do you ENJOY looking like a fool in public? Is that it?

No one except you and your "wife" are resposible for the mess you're in, Morkie. No doubt financial ineptness will be another of the things you "pas on" to this alleged son of yours.

Your right, Steve is not sick enough to be you. Not many individuals are that screwed up.

Too bad there is no one who uses RRAP and RRAM which agrees with your bogus statement. Your posting history clearly says otherwise. It is not up to you to decide what is a legitimate thread and what is not.
You shouldn't be thread jacking any threads it is poor Usenet practice to thread jack. Nevertheless, your one of the reasons that the Moderated group was created. You should be proud of that accomplishment, you trashed RRAM and RRAP so badly that a moderated group was deemed necessary by so many others.

A diatribe from Mark.

Mark posted a "reasponse" on his blog in response to my post here concerning the crimes that he alleges I committed, but as I said, I was only going to respond to him once. Once again his writing looks like a six year old ate a huge serving of alphabet soup and then vomited on the screen, a jumble of mis-spellings, butchered grammar, twisted rationals, and misconstrued interpretations of the law. I can only say that I have never received any complaints concerning my grammar skills or spelling, or about my presence on RRAM or RRAP, something that he can never honestly say. Well, I guess that he will continue to whine and play the victim because he is unable even conceptualize that his behavior on the Usenet groups is totally inappropriate, and in response, I suppose that others will continue theirs.

inculding yourself a response at various you even have agreed is criminal

defedning oneself aaginst crime is something you can't bear I knwo that dloyd it is why yo u wise chose to coneceal your true name

you should rember though that conceal ment makes ALL your harrassing posts a federal crime

you are also wise to keep up your barriar as sooner or later someone you have attacked and who is indeed unstable will pentrate your fraud and may well kill you most unpleasently
you don't understand that calling someone a pedo is in aproate Dloyd as long as you feel that way you are going to have problems even if I left eh USENET right now

personaly I think he has been here all the time posting through annymice but maybe he has wandered off and come back

and harrassment about peopel sexlifes to attack them

I am flattered by Robeson suggestion I am responsible for the fact that Gay bashing exist in the world, it is rather the overblown notion

when he blackmailed me on te subject I outed myself to the NG
expecting a slight flutter and the we would move on

his threats and harrassment never stoped even when I abseted myself

I think it is easily safe to say that Mark is the MAIN reason a moderated group was found to be a necessity. Why do I say this? Look back just a couple of weeks when Mark was absent from this group for several days. The posts suddenly became far fewer, were much more civil, and dealt with Amateur Radio issues for the most part. Then, upon Mark's unfortunate (for us) return, the flooding and thread jacking began again.

I agree with a previous post. It would behoove us to ignore Mark's fecal droppings, his hijacked threads, and his inane, pointless, and poorly authored comments. Note, I said Comments, NOT responses.

Your not going to get a response because you cannot author a coherent

Never said you did, but I can. Nevertheless, what is an stwoman..is that a street woman, a stunt woman, a studded woman, a stiff woman, a strong woman, see what I mean, you look like an illiterate, no wonder you think a television show such as law and order can provide you legal interpetations.

No, I never said anything about a response being criminal, but it figures you would think that, you misconstrue everything.

I conceal my name because I choose to, I am not stupid like you to use my real name on a NG. How stupid can you get. You think it makes you look brave, but to everyone else, you look like an idiot.

No Markie, the law states that it is illegal to harrass someone and being unidentifiable, there is a difference. I can easily be identified by LE if necessary. Besides, responding to you is not harrassment because YOU are initiating the contact. Idiot.

Stop lying, I never called you a "pedo", only a fellationist, you can't prove otherwise. Nevertheless, I have been handling a firearms for many years and practice quite frequently. Any unwelcome guest would be dealt with accordingly.

What facts I haven't seen any facts, only your usual dog and pony

I have a valid email address, no complaints there, hmmm, no posts on here, hmmm, no posts on my blog, hmmm, guess what, no complaints.

I am also dyslexic, but I don't use it as a crutch like you. I try harder than you to give coherent writings, and am more focused, that is why I succeed at everything I do. I have succeded in everything I said I would, have I not? Don't I have your old blog domain under my control?

Neither do I, which is obivous, how's that effort with LE going, still waiting for the supeona and charges. Oh that's right you were unsuccessful in trying to convience LE with your pack of lies.

I don't care what Steve thinks in this regard, I have no affiliation with anyone on this group, everything I do and say is on my own and is of my own doing. Unlike you, I don't need a support group to feel justified in my actions, I do what I want to do, if you don't like, oh well. deal with it. You can always disengage.

First you say Steve would not agree with me, and then you suspect me of being Steve, make up your mind already. Nevertheless, why would Steve need to create this nym, he already deals with you in the open.

Any way you did say that I called you a pedo, Quote "you don't understand that calling someone a pedo is in aproate Dloyd" now deny that you said it, here it is in your own writing.

It doesn't show up on my roadrunner (time warner) news server. I don't like to use the google web interface (I will only use a news reader...too old fashioned I guess). Hope it shows up on rr some day. It will be great if I can ever get access to a mark-free ham radio group. I can't find another free news server that I can post to but I can read it on nntp.idg.pl. I have to go all the way to Poland to get away from mark :-)

It really pays to work in an Emergency Department...

Sunday morning, 15 April 2007 at about 02:30 I was bringing a gurney down from the ICU back to the ER when I felt like the left side of my face was falling off...In a way, it was...

My first thought was I was having a stroke, and that's just the way it looked...Loss of control of the left side of my body, speech slurring, no pain but lot's of confusion. My partner went for help, and before you know it, I was in the CT scanner.

Luckily, it was NOT a stroke, but a condition called Bell's Palsy, a CNS failure to the cranial nerves of the face that cause the loss of control of the face.

There are obvious residuals...My left eye is drooping badly and it doesn't blink. I have to manually close the eye frequently or it starts tearing so badly I can't see. Also, I can't keep pressure against my mouth...It's as if I had a massive amont of Novacaine there...My biggest dissapointment is that I can't whistle..I don't smoke and I can't tell you how long it's been since I had a cold beer, but I have a habit of whistling tunes I like...Now I can't even do that...Oh well..

Good news says that it's supposed to resolve anywhere from a few days to a few months...I'm on meds for it and hope it's sooner than later...No one likes to have a one-eyed Nurse starting their IV's!

Try one of the free newsgroup servers such as news.albasani.net so you can use your news reader.

Until Comcast finally started carrying it, that's what I did.

checking webMD for bell's palsy I find not a lot of data but I noted one thing that many cases of it are known to be caused by Herpes an STD in many cases.

i do find interesting that a guy that accuses other of suffering from STD produces acual eveidence that he, himself may a victum of an STD
and one he could have gotten a LONG time ago

also Herpres infecttion are known to cuase defect in prenatal cases. I have always been dubious of Stevs story that his daughter's defect were cased by a cropduster, after were this the case a lawyer should have been contacted and and the Robeson's then should have not suffered from the finacail hardships they did (accodring to steve himself) suffer from, but if he condiction was the result of herpes infection then stave may have caused the illness/injury to his daughter himself, in either the same act that conceived her or proir
to that in spreading such a condiction to his wife.

I am not saying this is the case I am saying it certainly may be the case

any coment Steve?

Mark said...you posted on one of your tossed blog.

First, none of my blogs were ever tos'ed. I still have complete control over all of my blogs and domain names, but unlike you, no one ever took over one of my domains names because it was TOS'ed by Blogger. I'll have this domain until I decide to dispose of it. Apparently, Blogger TOS'ed you and your rants.

No, what I said is I thought some had crossed the line. That statement was as a result of when I became aware that someone's reporting to the authorities had resulted in a physical inspection of your father for abuse, which now I think is probably a lie based upon your continued behavior. In psychology, there is such a thing as situation and reaction. Like when a child is beaten, he manifests agressive behavior. Just as when someone is subjected to an unpleasant situation, they tend to avoid the situation, yet you continue to engage me, if you truly felt harassed, normalcy dictates that you would avoid me, not desire to engage in dialogue with me, yet you persist. Nevertheless, when someone starts affecting your life outside of the Internet I believe it is crossing the line. You think what I do is harassment, I think its not, I don't engage you beyond RRAP and RRAM, or my blog.

you are not interested in daiogue with me if you were you would not be enaged in ahrrasing and tealing my proetyy attacking my wife and my personal lifeyou want some "right" to condcut your harranges on RRAp here any where that suits and you demend that I not respond to thempleas dloyd act like you might a even teen ager

You are right, I don't want a dialogue with you, at one time I considered it, about the same time I posted the statement you noted, but I learned that you are irrational, petty, and obviously have some deep seated mental and comprehension issues. I approached you several times in threads on RRAP to resolve this, and the end result was with you making outlandish accusations, directing profane language at me, and you stating that as long as I post under this name you would engage me. I even tried to take the approach to avoid you, but even when I posted on topic and tried to stay away from you, you had to come in and start being a smart ass with snide comments directed at me. So your actions indicate that you wanted to continue the situation. Furthermore, I haven't attacked your wife, I am not the one calling her a she male at every turn, your the one that came out and told everyone on RRAP and RRAM that she was a bi-sexual, not I, because I had no knowledge of such, yet you were more than happy to let everyone know. I am surprised that your wife didn't make you sleep on the couch for a week for spreading her intimate affairs on RRAP and RRAM.

Checked out RRAP this morning. It appears that Morkie has gone on a Steve Spamathon Tirade. He is so desperate, Mark has even gone into the archives and dredged up old threads so he can have something to post...LOL I love Dee's past remark to Mark, it is so right on target. It truly must be hell to be a the mercy of everyone on the planet. Marks seems to be such a tormented soul without any tormentors. With all of the things he alleges has happened to him during his interaction with Usenet, you think he would at least been able to resolve his differences with the group, but of course it is impossible to have dialogue with the unreasonable, and someone who's thought process appears to be so twisted that his rationale shows no common sense. Of course Markie is the one who is correct and it is everybody else who is wrong....what were we thinking...LOL

dind it amusing that insisting that the coments on my Blog be on topic is such a hardship to people that they coment on RRAP about itone is since the topic is radio the coment needs to be radio related IOW calling my wife a shemale in response to a post about my new radio or the end of code testing just doesn't make it.two, posting a dozen coment s becuase you have not noticed that coments are moderated to prevent the above abuse will get most of your coments dumped in the bit bucket I will choose which of your coments gets through in that casethree I will not post your coment if I consider it libelous against a third party, My wife My father my father inlaw and the esp the makers of the gear I buy and use' so saying "ranger sucks...." don't make it either four spam don't make it either although I supose if you are selling something I migh t seel you a posting or accept some other

arrangementin general nothing about sexuality is going to make it to this blog although I am condsidering authoring such a blog in the future, a na excepttion might be coments about some repost of a post I might here but that is case by case

Who is we, nobody else seems to have an issue. Nevertheless, do your really think I give a damn what you think? You are just some mental midget internet moron, that apparently I can get you all wound up with very little effort, what a dolt. In exchange the group gets to watch you squrim and cry like a little girl. Kind of like when you hold a magnifying glass over an ant. If you don't like it, crack open your life savings, get a quarter, and call someone who gives a shit.

No claims and no nurses on this end, but I know what Nurses make, here they make about $50.00 an hour. Apparently, it pays a hell of a lot more than sitting around waiting for your father to die so you can get your hands on some old run down shack with its own private junk yard, surrounded by 50 acres of worthless land.

Before you ask, I told you once before that you post too much personal info on the net.

That kook doesn't count for anything, he is a total wack job, his posting is worse than yours. His only contribution to the NG is to identify people he thinks are kooks and post that there are kooks. He must have absolutly no life whatsoever.

USA, and opinions were still allowed. If you don't like it move to Communist China or to Canada with your kooky friend Sharky.

Markie has been very busy today, beginning at 0521 hrs. His medications must have kicked in and he is apparently answering all those voices he hears. I mean, four, five and even six posts per minute? He keeps dredging up old insults, real or perceived, and is once again regurgitating his sexual preferences.
What are those voices saying to you, Mark? Awww...I know why he hears them! You removed your aluminum foil beanie before going to bed again, didn't you?

Mark says, " your the one that came out and told everyone on RRAP and RRAM that she was a bi-sexual, not I,

But on March 4th of this year he said, "given the truth as it happens he knows I am bisexaul for that matter is something I have in common with his daughter.", thus "outing" Gav for one and all.

I pity you, Mark.

Honor, Oh Gawd, don't tell me your going to rehash you shire BS.
Nevertheless, since you don't think anyone would want it, maybe I will just store it away like the others.

No fraud and theft. Blogger TOS'ed your blog, or you took it down for some reason. Nevertheless, theft requires me to steal something that belongs to you. The domain name http://kb9rqz.blogspot.com does not belong to you, it never did, your call has no meaning except to the FCC and when your on the air, other than that it has zero meaning to the rest of the world. The domain name is the property of Blogger and was issued to me upon request by Blogger, kind of like a ham license. You know, when people give up their old calls and they are reissued to someone else by the FCC. If you want to dispute my aquisition of the domain name then dispute it with Blogger. But as I have said, your blog went not found which freed the domain name, it stayed not found for several days, and then I obtained the domain name while you were off doing whatever you do with your spare time.

Furthermore, I have a disclaimer on my blog clearly stating that the blog is not yours nor is not associated with your amateur station. So there is no fraud, I am not pretending to be you, or project myself as such. Anyone who visits my blog can clearly see that it is not yours. I think we covered this issue enough. Move on or yap to Blogger about it.

No I am not. I am using a set of characters of my choosing on an internet blog site. Like I said, when the FCC starts issuing internet call signs let me know. Honestly, I was just about ready to free the domain name, but since you had your little temper tantrum, Fk you, if you pardon my french. You blew it acting like an asshole as usual. You want the domain name, take it up with Blogger.

That your an asshole. Well you proved your point, and you also proved that even if I released the name, you would continue your campaign against RRAP and RRAM, so what do I have to gain, nothing.

Then STFU. Go whine to blogger, maybe they will give you the domain, but I doubt it since they TOS'ed your blog, and I am using the domain that I created under my account.

What's this "fellow hams" bullshit, is that some crap someone fed you abou the ARS trying to get you to join some stupid ass club. This isn't some kind of fellowship. See that is the problems with you no-

I wonder how HughesNet would feel about receiving each and every one of Mark's posts as a separate message in their abuse account's mail box? Think they would begin to understand how the readers of this newsgroup feel?

In message <1174929882.797290.192310@d57g2000hsg.googlegroups.com>, Mark Morgan admitted that he is trying to disrupt the news groups by saying, "... How can one "steal" bits of people's lives when these very people stupidly share information about their lives, names, addresses, and more on the Internet for all to see?
The real stupidity lies in giving this information out in the first place.

I heard an advertisement on the radio yesterday promoting ham radio. The ad pointed out the reliability of ham radio during emergencies when other communications failed, the history of ham radio, and the fact that the Morse code requirement had been dropped. It also listed an Internet site to help one get started in ham radio.

Does anyone else know anything about this? Like most radio commercials, I didn't get a chance to write down the site, but I will keep listening and try to write it down the next time. This is something that I'd be interested in supporting.

Don't worry, I decided to keep the blog for at least a little while. I was mulling it over and actually considered giving up the domain name, but from the time I said I would give up the blog until I was just getting ready to free the domain (about 5 minutes). Markie threw another fit and spammed the hell out of RRAP with his Dloyd this and Dloyd that slanderous tirade. So I said to hell with it, why should I do anything for an ungrateful ahole like him. F Mark Morgan, he can whine until the cows come home.

Exactly, quantity not quality. Remember Packard Bell computers? They shot up fast with high quantity and low quality at the beginning of the dot.com boom. You could stand outside of Best Buy stores and see someone leaving with a new Packard Bell every 30 seconds. The problem was, you saw an equal number coming back in as returns. The only reliable business model for survival is quality, whether or not, at the moment, "business" is good or bad. The ARRL may have shot itself in the foot by satisfying the temporary demand of 2006 with a tremendous loss of reputation for the remaining years of ham radio. Too bad. Same thing happened with CB (I lived through that one too). Too bad the MBA's ruined the quality of the ARRL just as they ruined the rest of American business and conditioned the populace to accept low quality products until they no longer had a choice. I don't blame the Red Cross for their decision and I would support a special red cross certification for radio communications volunteers that yes, should include a 13 wpm morse code test to ensure the ability to communicate with others under the most adverse conditions, including those not having access to PC's to use the other allegedly superior "digital" modes.

> I cannot...(SNIP)

You cannot pass up an opportunity to pontificate, denigrate and otherwise continue to do your best to be a thorn in the side of Amateur Radio, your recent acquiring of an Amateur license notwithstanding.

You possess an encyclopedia-scope knowledge of how radios work but you hcae a long way to go to be a qualifed operator.. That you obtained an Amateur license is laudable, however you have years and years of PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE yet to gain. Haivng pushed a button that caused RF to be emanated does NOT make you an "operator" in anyone's book.

Your ticket says "Extra", however you are, in every aspect, a NOVICE in the matters of operating an Amateur Radio station and in practical Amateur application.

No amount of your blustering or buffoonery can hide your lack of experience.

> "Radio" and all of electronics works by the same laws of physics...(SNIP)

YaddaYaddaYadda.

Lennie, you keep trying to re-roast this pig over and over, and it's still smells like dead pig.

No one, myself or any other person, has EVER made ANY suggestion that the PHYSICS or radiocommunication vary based upon the service class of the station emanating the RF.

You look like an idiot trying to suggest otherwise, but just like Morkie Moron, you seem to enjoy looking like an idiot.

Trying to hide behind such silliness makes you look...well...silly.

> The scope, content of my personal activities are of no one's concern, > nor should they be.

Then stop making them the centerpiece of your rantings on USENET.

Among other issues that YOU have made part and parcel of your USENET rantings have been: your professional career, your alleged Army service, your marriages, your real estate issues, child rearing (despite being childless), your education, your political views, your opinions on radio services that you have no practical knowledge of, political parties, and a wealth of other topics that had no business seeing the light of day in these forums.

YOU bring them up...THAT makes them other people's concern
whether YOU like the replies or not.

SNIPPAGE of the rest of your usual "I Know More About Radios Than Anyone Else" rantings and pontifications.

Amateur Radio, despite your best efforts to denigrate and dismiss it as something less than what it is, remains one of the greatest resources of emergency communications in the United States and internationally.

Amateur Radio is NOT military, commercial, PLMRS, CB, or any other radio service, no matter how you try to weave them into your rants, however Amateur Radio remain the communications resource of choice in disasters. Men and women greater than you have said so from the floor of Congress, in the Federal Register, in the pages of the Wall Street Journal, on CNN, etc.

Try and fool someone else, Leonard... Everyone else with an IQ over 70 sees right through you.

One Of Morkie's Efforts To Misquote Me:

"Morkie, I will conceed that you know two things that I will never know...What it's like to lick my excrement off of another man's genitals, and the going welfare rates in Michigan. steve goes claiming othermen eat his ####"

I never claimed other men "eat (my) excrement"

Your continued incompetence in the English language is glaring.

"stop the lying stop the vandalism and stop the bull at this point my server say you have post 8o plus itme titled with #### or a synoym in the title"

You are a liar.

"stop lying syaing I eat your ####"

I never did.

"stop lying about being miiss quoted "

I'm not lying. You've proved and re-proved that over and over.

N0IMD had helped you perpetuate that mistruth.

"get a life and get help since you are clearly obessed with staking a man sexualy"

Stop lying and learn English, fatboy.

"the truth I trick you in 1998 when you threnting to MURDER me"

(1) You've tricked no one. Your lies and deceit are crystal clear. You've been busted over and over for them.

(2) No one, least of all me, threatened to murder you. You flatter yourself thinking anyone would surrender thier freedom to terminate you.

"stop this whining and face facts you are the one that is sick with your obesstion for ####"

You're the one with the obsession, fat boy...That's why you keep using the profanity for excrement.

Mark C Morgan of Chassell, MI is a pathological liar.

hecking webMD for bell's palsy I find not a lot of data but I noted one thing that many cases of it are known to be caused by Herpes an STD in many cases.

i do find interesting that a guy that accuses other of suffering from STD produces acual eveidence that he, himself may a victum of an STD
and one he could have gotten a LONG time ago

also Herpres infecttion are known to cuase defect in prenatal cases. I have always been dubious of Stevs story that his daughter's defect
were cased by a cropduster, after were this the case a lawyer should have been contacted and and the Robeson's then should have not
suffered from the finacail hardships they did (accodring to steve himself) suffer from, but if he condiction was the result of herpes infection then stave may have caused the illness/injury to his daughter himself, in either the same act that conceived her or proir
to that in spreading such a condiction to his wife.

I am not saying this is the case I am saying it certainly may be the case

any coment Steve?

It really pays to work in an Emergency Department...

Sunday morning, 15 April 2007 at about 02:30 I was bringing a gurney down from the ICU back to the ER when I felt like the left side of my face was falling off...In a way, it was...

My first thought was I was having a stroke, and that's just the way it looked...Loss of control of the left side of my body, speech slurring, no pain but lot's of confusion. My partner went for help, and before you know it, I was in the CT scanner.

Luckily, it was NOT a stroke, but a condition called Bell's Palsy, a CNS failure to the cranial nerves of the face that cause the loss of control of the face.

There are obvious residuals...My left eye is drooping badly and it doesn't blink. I have to manually close the eye frequently or it starts tearing so badly I can't see. Also, I can't keep pressure against my mouth...It's as if I had a massive amont of Novacaine there...My biggest dissapointment is that I can't whistle..I don't smoke and I can't tell you how long it's been since I had a cold beer, but I have a habit of whistling tunes I like...Now I can't even do that...Oh well..

Good news says that it's supposed to resolve anywhere from a few days to a few months...I'm on meds for it and hope it's sooner than later...No one likes to have a one-eyed Nurse starting their IV's!

his threats and harrassment never stoped even when I abseted myself
from the NG for roughly 5 yeas but the prep for the fight to finaly end code testing were beging and I wanted in on that

being far too honest. indeed the only lesson that ayone can take from obeson feud with me is that Honesty is borderline suicidal in this day
and age

understand

No, it doesn't.

It suggests that KB9RQZ has a hard time quoting accurately.

The "mistake" is Brian P Burke, N0IMD and Mork Moron KB9RQZ trying to pass off misrepresentations of other's comments as accurate and then wondering why other people keep calling them liars.

Steve,

Morkie's little attack on the NG and you doesn't even warrant a response. Most don't give Mork one iota of credibility. We all know everything he post is BS and is misconstrued anyway. He just wants some of your attention because obviously he is feeling a little neglected. LOL

Ok Morkie, it I can't be slandered, then I can't commit fraud either, to go further, then I don't exist, and I don't have a blog. So what are you whining about?

No I actually was going to release the name, but I was cautious considering your past behavior, it seems that my reservations were well founded.

Because you were going to get your way for once. That someone was going to take the first step in being polite, but no you couldn't act like an adult...you are such an ASSHOLE.

No point out that you are a whining little boy throwing a temper tantrum and taking out on RRAP because you can't have your way.

I will still retain the domain, no matter what happens to the blog.

Since I haven't commented on your sex life, I am not sure where you are going with this. Why do you keep bringing it up. It seems that you are the one focused on your sex life. Really, I don't care, your defective and I can accept that, but it appears that you can't.

Saying that you are defective is not name calling, Markie. It is a descriptor. Dloyd is correct. You ARE defective, and you illustrate same with each post you make.

There are NO comments, save for a few that Mark himself made. It appears that his crybaby forum is just as unpopular as Mark and nobody cares. Why

Yes, I went over there, it is exactly what I said it was. Mark, lifted my entire blog, so he could post without being moderated by me. I don't really care, I find it quite entertaining. I really doesn't matter what he says, you seen one Morkie blog, you've seen them all.

No matter what he does, none of his blogs will ever be; www.kb9rqz.blogspot.com, LOL

The board of directors of MARC (Marqueer Amateur Radio Club) will be considering requesting KC9RQZ as it's club call.

Indeed, this will be the topic of tonight's MARC net on 3,890 Mhz @ 8:00PM EST.

Yes, I went over there, it is exactly what I said it was. Mark, lifted my entire blog, so he could post without being moderated by me.

I don't really care, I find it quite entertaining. I really doesn't matter what he says, you seen one Morkie blog, you've seen them all.
No matter what he does, none of his blogs will ever be;
www.kb9rqz.blogspot.com,
LOL

Dloyd

www.kb9rqz.blogspot.com

Dloyd's Blog

As Mark himself said, "it shows the lengths you will go in your pathietic effort to attack me".
His mirror blogs reflect (pun intended) the "pathietic" lengths to whichHE will go to in response.

I'd love to have heard Mark's CW operation during a flight of stairs with a keyer and a Scrabble game.

Sure Morkie whatever you say, but guess what, NO ONE CARES, NO ONE IS LISTENING to who looks like what, I certainly don't, in this forum, the forum of public opinion, you are the looser because everyone knows who your are and what you are all about. Just keep playing your games, keep spamming the NG with your tirade, keep making your false accusations without any facts.

I told you, your are entertaining, like a puppet under everyone's control, I or someone posts and you must post back, you can't stop yourself. RRAP and RRAM reflects that, 95% of every thread ends with you responding to someone, while running each thread into the ground.
Go to Google Groups and look at RRAP and RRAM, 95% of the posts end with the same poster, YOU. However, when you look at other groups, ones that you don't post to look fairly normal, all kinds of different threads, when many different posters.

Oh, so now you don't think I am Woger, I wish you would make up your mind.

Then admitting that you know your behavior is inappropriate and needs to be policed, but you act the way you do because you know there are no real consequences to your actions

No guilt here, you see I did not obtain my domain the way that you
"captured" the spamblog. The person that created that blog used you identity to create the blog, Thus inpersonating you. IMO, you had a right under bloggers TOS to "capture" the blog, was it the right thing to do, from your perspective it may have been, from mine, no, to me it was still someone's creative works, whatever the use. OTOH, and listen very carefully one more time, your blog and domain went not found for some reason. Either you took it down for whatever reason and won't admit the truth, or Blogger TOS'ed your blog for whatever reason.
Nevertheless, the domain name came available and I choose to obtain the address. You may not like it but that is the truth. I didn't take your blog and delete the contents. Your blog was long gone when I obtained the domain, but I am glad, since your blog had turned into a tirade about me anyway, I think you lost your focus of why you were blogging in the first place. Maybe, if you hadn't turned your blog into a slander fest of Dloyd Lavies, your blog would still exist.

You couldn't kill a fly much less a man. You want to kill me for posting stuff on the net. But I find it funny that you didn't kill the person who supposedly raped you or caused your father to go through an anal examination for alleged elder abuse. You a lot of

You don't REALLY wish Mark were there, do you? Unless you need a pool boy, that is.
I certainly wouldn't allow him to enter the water for fear that he'd pollute
it. I say this because, judging from the poor condition of his yard, it is glaringly apparent that Mark and Personal Hygiene are not on a first name basis.

It's not a matter of caring, just cheap entertainment, passes the time.

I also look at shortwave, you don't have the same posting behavior over there, you don't try to dominate every thread over there like you do on RRAP and RRAM, even looking at your profile reflects that you post much less over there than you do here.

Asking you not to crap on my threads is not blackmail. I already know your response, don't bother, we've done this dance before.

WHAT!, I told you about a dozen times the basis for my beef with you.
I am not going to cover that entire ground again. Been there done that.

But in summary,

I asked you not to crap on my threads, and the response from you was
FU. When I had my blogs, I asked you not to post your bad language, your response FU.

I even thought about releasing the blog domain, but because I didn't move fast enough, your response FU

If you don't know what the problem is, you will never know.

I never agreed, I only agreed with you under the terms as you gave it, when you said you had a right to post to each and every thread and say whatever you wanted including foul language because you couldn't control yourself, it was only at that point I agreed. With those terms, of course you couldn't stop crapping on my threads.

Confederates...LOL, poor Markie still living in the past. Why don't you get on your trusty steed and hail the high road, a quest awaits you Sir Punce Alot, with a bit of steel and luck, you may fine a worthy quest against those who challange your might knowledge of the Princess Jewess Winch of Shire Fat Assesous. Away Sir Punce ALot....ride like the wind away...your quest awaits.... and about this time an eighteen wheeler rides through the Shire and crushes poor Sir Punce Alot and his flea bitten nag...

Because you claimed that you had so many friends. However, your wedding registry appeared to discredit that statement, considering it had many items and like only four had been purchased. When I posted this info it seemed relevant to the topic at the time. Your the one that had taken the thread off topic about how you had so many friends. BTW, if the info was so private, why did Google search find it in its cache and why did you leave it on the net four years after you got married.

we did not

and itis not that it is so private it is simply the sort of thing you claim is improper when done to others

it had no bearing on the RRAP or radio or the number of friend I have possibly on the numbers i friends I had that shoped online with amazon

Oh well looks like all the TOILET TICKS have someplace to go as long as nimbusters.com is down. Once Vic closes the net however you can BE SURE that the whole gang will be back in the Ham and Shortwave usenet groups spreading their shi+ like so many flatulating dairy cows in the pasture....

PFHBBLTTTT!!!!!!!!!!!

ps: Woger I heard you making comments on top of the Liberty Net earlier, please GROW THE F--K UP will you? Thanks, now go back to blowing Lloyd in his TARDIS when nimbusters comes back - assuming it ever does of course.

Here is the NEW URL for the NEW AND IMPROVED Nimbusters Board!

here ---> http://nimbusters.info/

Now new and improved with 12 toilet holes instead of the original six !
...you still have to bring your own paper or corncobs and magazines however no need to flush however as we've kept the traditional trench dug-12 foot deep pit
with wooden box seats!

I "atacking" nobody but your stupid disregard for the English language.

And besides, Dloyd often makes humorous comments that I find entertaining.
You should borrow a page from Dloyd's book of humor and learn to laugh.

Aw, crap. Now Markie will be up all night whining about how he is the victim. Groan.
I've said it before and will say it once again. Had Mark not been so friggin' stupid as to post his name, his call sign, and even his goofy wife's wedding wish list, Mork would not now be suffering the slings he is.
And yet the dumbass still maintains that he has more Chutzpah than the rest of us because he uses his name and posts personal information. Sorry to be so banal, but What A Fucking Idiot.

Mork. I noted that some, many, of your asinine comments at http://ipunce.blogspot.com were removed. Too bad that the admin of that blog won't allow you to flame as you do on Usenet. Your perceived freedom of speech stops at the ipunce blog's front door. I guess you'll have to crap on posts elsewhere.

I'd love to have heard Mark's CW operation during a

flight of stairs with a keyer and a Scrabble game.

Mark's "steed" is much like him. Both are neutered geldings, both have swaybacks, and both vent their digested grass in their front yards.
Mark has a small disremblance from his trusty steed in that Mark's ears are much larger and operate independently of each other. Kind of like a Jackass...

Mark's bullhockey snipped.

Mark, it ain't Libel if it is fact.

And to prove that a statement is NOT fact and may indeed be Libel, YOU have to take the person making the comment to court to prove otherwise. This means, of course, that you would have to hire a REAL attorney and that that REAL attorney would have to subpoena Usenet (or whoever) for records as to whose URl the comments came from.
Since you and Gav are of obvious limited incomes, it would serve you well to cease with your bullshit claims of being "libeled". You are a paper tiger.

Your mail-order legal courses aren't teaching you much.

Oh, the irony. Mark is ice ages away from learning to spell correctly. Then he turns about and further slaughters the construction of what should be a readable sentence.
He has excuses, sure. The bottom line is that Mark is simply too lazy to do anything other than sit on his fat arse, gobble calories, let his wife work at her mundane new shop and haunt Usenet.

But you stated "maybe it is even stev who knows has gets crazier and crazier" still considering that it did in fact come from Steve.

Obvious it is a forgery, but like you said who knows, just like the death threat I have archived that supposedly came from you, I doubt that it came from you, you deny it, but also you said you want me dead. So who knows, maybe you did send it after all.

your point? if any

in previou sround of this discusioin(you tlaking receiving a hreat alegely from me) I have even agreed agreed you would be wise to consider the possiblity that the threat you allege to have recived was from me. I commended your logic still you flamed for what? considering the possiblity the threat may have been sent by steve and you claimed I asigned blame for to steve and steve alone to amplfy my postion one of the reason I do not dismis the authorship eing real is that Steve has a history of making threats in the NG and Email as a form of imtimadation and when called on it tries to defend himself "with no sane man would do that" a response that has worked so far with LE but since I don't think he is particularly sane not me threat is if steve is not likely to be carried out, steve according to his is suffering an illness that makes him traveling here unlikelt without aid

therefore It is either steve trying again to scare me. or someone trying to provoke me into action against steve or most dangeous to me some intending me harm and trying to tie steve name to the act rather than his own

you say you want to treated politely by me then I say EARN it you were extended some politeness and respect on credit long ago then you otherdreww the account and you keep on over drawing it

If invoking "God" as justification for slaughter, irrespective of the time, then it has everything to do with religion and "God". Control by any other name is still control.

What would you have me do? I don't know these people. I have no control over what other people do. Last time I checked, everybody pretty much does what they want to do. I don't own a master control switch to control other people's actions. If you find one, let me know. I would like to stop the war in Iraq first, before we deal with your insignificant problems with the individuals who post on RRAP and RRAM.

Not unlike when you attacked Steve's deceased daughter and could not confine your attacks to Steve.

You are not a man. You are a hypocrite.

And Dloyd is correct. You are also an asshole.

Dimwit. The original post was mine. You are the one who is following me around attempting to change the subject line. Unlike others in these newsgroups, I don't allow you to get away with it.

My responses to you always reset the subject line to what had initially been posted. Learn to live with it, dimwit, because that's the way it will always be.

You are truly delusional, Mork. Just yesterday you made 154 posts and you have the stupidity to tell Dloyd to be a decent Usenet citizen and stop trolling.
You really are missing some screws in that misfiring head of yours.
When you were missing from Usenet for two days, the group was just fine. Things calmed down, everybody was civil and, more importantly, nobody missed you.

The problem here, shit-for-brains, is that YOU are the problem, not Dloyd. You are the reason a moderated group was formed, not Dloyd. YOU are the person who shits on everybody's posts, not Dloyd.
You are the brain-fogged clown that hijacks threads time after time, not Dloyd.

The recent acts taken by some which have caused discomfort in your personal life are, in my estimation, deserved. Maybe Roger will share one of his surplus pizzas with you. He already knows where to ship it.

And, for Gog's sake, STOP whining about "your" blog. It is not yours now.
Grow up, wipe the tears from your chubby cheeks, and be a man.

You ARE the problem, Mark. Not the solution.

Indeed they do. But then you're too addled to pay attention to that. I regard you as the most dysfunctional person to have ever posted here.

You can't get away with your attempted thread hijacking if others reset the subject line. It's as simple as that, and I will ALWAYS reset the subject line.

I'm sorry, asshole, we didn't give you permission to decide what is proper for other people to post. That is the stuff that dictators like Fidel Castro like to do.

You have no authority to decide what is "proper" for others to post, and your attempt to do so only proves just how much of a dysfunctional asshole you are.

I look forward to the day when the events you put into motion catch up with you.

I am no such thing, I was happy, just posting here and reading the destroy the group, your posting behavior has made RRAP and RRAM almost useless and unreadable. I asked you to stop, but you said FU. Well Markie, the shoe is on the other foot, and as you asked me before so gleefully an snide, are you having fun yet, well Mark are you?

I tried that, I left the group for three days. When I came back, I posted a response to one on topic post, what did you do, you came in and posted your little smart ass remarks. So you see, my actions had no effect on the group, and you couldn't leave me alone. Recently, I was away for a week on business, same deal, no effect on the group. However, when you are gone, you can actually see a change on RRAP and RRAM within days.

why do you get pissed when someone does exactly what you ask dloyd?
you asked" what would you have me do?" I answer your question and you get pissy about it

why not admit what seems obvious to almost everyone you are dattacking

but this could be it as well

Dloyd is fine about hijacking threads as long as the target is ME

BTW I hijacked the oirginal here the title was "an open letter to Gays" so I realy don't understand why he is so hung up on the title of a threads remaining invioate I guess he means they mus remain inviolate when they are attacking someone he does not like

There you go again. Throwing your perversions into the faces of others in hope of gaining public approval.
YOU bring the topic up when others don't. Your guilt is showing.

See? When nobody said a word about your perversions, you brought it up again. That guilt must really be eating away at you. Ok. Let me do that which you are always accusing everybody of being since we're being accused of it anyway.

Yes, Mark. You are a sickening, perverted cock sucker and sodomite. We don't

Your right there old man. On Mark's blog, "another attcak blog

http://kd8ctl.blogspot.com/

i do wish I were being attacke by real men but I am not I am under attcak by a band of cowards who go and on attacking them me myy wife
my father my father inlaw my mother

this latest is anoying in that My wife has had some thoughs of truly blogging himself

why these fellows can't be men I honestly can't understand"

Notice how Mark referred to his wife as himself, not herself, of course we knew it all along, THAT"S A MAN BABY!!!

Well, you can count that one out, Markie. Your call sign (blogwise) is taken as is that of your wife.

Mark. Having given some serious thought concerning the registration of Gav's call sign to be used as a blog, I must admit that this was a transgression that was almost completely uncalled for. Almost.
It was mean, yes. It was done with forethought, yes. It was calculated and carried out after I read a comment on the ipunce blog from a user who identified himself as "Tex". In fact, Mark, had you been a bit more on the ball you would have seen this comment and you could have beat me to the punce. It was not my fault. I just did that which "Tex" suggested.

My conscience is getting the better of me on this one, Mark. I should not have done what I did, even to a jerk such as yourself and even though I had a right to do so. Mea Culpa, Mea Culpa, Mea Maxima Culpa.

With this in mind, and the fact that I can't sleep peacefully knowing that I have trespassed on hallowed Mark Morgan ground, I will posit a simple offer.

If you cease hijacking posts/topics for a thirty day period beginning today, I will delete the blog and will give every consideration toward relinquishing the aforementioned blog to your control. After all, I have no use for it.

And since I am feeling somewhat generous, I might even do likewise with the gavmorgan blog, but also not without stipulations.

If you cease your countless posts, say keeping them to five or six per day, accusing Dloyd of being a "theif" and if you do so for the same aforementioned 30 day period, I will be more than amenable concerning handing the gavmorgan blog over to your control, too. Of course this stipulation does not require that you cease picking on Roger, since to ask such would be far to unrealistic.

The blog(s) is in your court. It is now up to you to govern yourself accordingly should you wish to gain control of same.

I'm sorry, lunatic, but discussions of rec.radio.amateur.policy are ON TOPIC IN BOTH NEWSGROUPS, because they are the groups which spawned the moderated group in the first place.

To repeat: YOU DON'T GET TO MODERATE THESE GROUPS. YOUR OPINION IS WORTHLESS.

As a matter of fact, your followup was off topic, as is just about everything you post. Now go check out your hoe and see if there's a radio transmitter hidden near it. Roger may be tricking you again.

Nope.

you quote the original text.

That makes YOU an idiot.

Mark has attempted to post there, but he's mostly out of his league in that group and can't think of much to say. Consequently, he has only made a handful of posts in the group's entire history.

I'd love to see him attempt to declare a post off topic there or to try to hijack a thread. He'd be banned so fast that he wouldn't know what happened. He was already banned when it was a test group, and he is still permanently banned from posting at http://www.qrz.com.

So much for the lunatic who postures about being on topic.

checking webMD for bell's palsy I find not a lot of data but I noted one thing that many cases of it are known to be caused by Herpes an STD in many cases.

i do find interesting that a guy that accuses other of suffering from STD produces acual eveidence that he, himself may a victum of an STD
and one he could have gotten a LONG time ago

also Herpres infecttion are known to cuase defect in prenatal cases. I have always been dubious of Stevs story that his daughter's defect
were cased by a cropduster, after were this the case a lawyer should have been contacted and and the Robeson's then should have not
suffered from the finacail hardships they did (accodring to steve himself) suffer from, but if he condiction was the result of herpes infection then stave may have caused the illness/injury to his daughter himself, in either the same act that conceived her or proir
to that in spreading such a condiction to his wife.

I am not saying this is the case I am saying it certainly may be the case

any coment Steve?

you enage in driveby libel why ?

you don't stay ontopic why?

bruing though steve threadjacking

personaly I think he has been here all the time posting through
annymice but maybe he has wandered off and come back

and harrassment about peopel sexlifes to attack them

I am flattered by Robeson suggestion I am responsible for the fact that Gay bashing exist in the world, it is rather the overblown notion tof the NAZI's that the Jews are behind everything, and to be one person and have such power. it is flatering but in all truth i Must tdecline the "honnor"

the truth is my sex life is at issue because robeson et al went hunting and tried to blackmail me about something they found out and that I do not conceal. I am bisexaul and would try most anything at least once
when he blackmailed me on te subject I outed myself to the NG
expecting a slight flutter and the we would move on

instead Steve escalated to deatrh threats and began his now 9 year Jihad to try to rid the wolrd of me not merely the NG but the world
his threats and harrassment never stoped even when I abseted myself
from the NG for roughly 5 yeas but the prep for the fight to finaly
end code testing were beging and I wanted in on that

being far too honest. indeed the only lesson that ayone can take from obeson feud with me is that Honesty is borderline suicidal in this day
and age

understand

The newest U.P. hot spot, the Greenlight Lounge, is IN and all kewl pple know it. For a good time watching local thespians and magickal pple, come to

The Greenlight Lounge
Phone: 906-523-4417
Chassell, MI 49916

Be sure to bring yer cents of humor with you.

Instead of karaoke, the Greenlight has a thespian showcase ever Saturday nite at 11 pm sharp. Each year they have a different theme for the showcase, and this year the theme is Native American berdaches and their customs and costumes. Right now, the thespian who has won the last five showcases is Mr. Morkie, and so he is Greenlight's reigning champion and the one to beat.

Besides that, the Greenlight has an enema room with its own beer keg and floor drain so that you can enjoy beer yer own way. This is a feature to be found in no other U.P. bar.

We have fun, fun, fun, fun, fun ever Saturday night. Be thier or be square.

Hey, Woger. Mark needs his own newsgroup, don't ya think? After of his years of flaming, spamming, threadjacking, whining, lying, and being an outright pain in the ass, he is about ready for the Usenet Hall Of Shame.

I would like to suggest something like alt.flame.mark.morgan.

Nope, Roger knew Marqueer wasn't about to show up in the first place.
Marqueer changed his story from the previous day that he can't go far because of his sick daddy. Marqueer trieed to bluff with 4 jokers and got called on it.

Now waddle along, Porky, the Salvation Army shelter will be closing for the night and you'll have to sleep in your shitty car again.

What a surprise, Marqueer knows all the gay bar hangouts. Trouble is, none of the clientele have any desire to catch Marqueer's AIDS. Marqueer alweays gets the Red light at the Greenlight gay lounge. Sorry, Marqueer, I only go to regular hangouts , filled with straight people. AS much as you have a love interest in Roger, it will have to stay unrequited. Now, looks like you'll have to settle for that obese shemale you "married."

> the greenlight is a redneck bar another sort of place youd be a afarid > to be in

In another post, you claimed to have never been inside it. How would you know what kind of place it was, then? Did you go in there and the minute you opened your slobbering pie hole, the "rednecks" knew you were a homosexual and threw you out because they didn't want your "kind" in there? You only have well documented lies, you have no credibility.

BTW, You seem to have left out the fact (not a surprise, since you are a pathological liar) that you had NO INTENTIONS of showing at any hamfests, claiming" You can't leave your sick daddy alone that long." You had stated in other posts that 1) you have no desire to meet Roger, 2) You are afraid of Roger, and 3) You had all the equipment you needed, supposedly bought "new" at an AES hamfest, and 4) you had no intentions of going to the hamfests anyways.

> >Even those faggots at that bar > >usually give AIDS ridden Markie the "Red light." Don't they, Marqueer?

Yes, Marqueer is so like John Adams.....insecure, speaks with a lisp and has poor people skills. No wonder they cast him as Adams in those shitty community theatre productions that closed after a couple of runs. Of course, Marqueer's wooden acting abilities made sure he never got cast again.

Nope, you claimed you can't leave your daddy alone that long. Now you

What's the difference between a jew and a pizza?
A pizza doesn't scream in the oven.

Why do jews have big noses?
Air is free.

How many jews can you fit in a VolksWagon?
All of them if you put them in the ashtray.

Why did the Jews wander in the desert for 40 years?
Because one of them lost a quarter.

How was copper wire invented?
Two jews fighting over a penny.

Whats the difference between St.Claus and the Jews?
St. Claus goes down the chimney, Jews go up!

Just like Worqueer changes his stalking, Worqueer, you spend so much time on the internet, at least 8 hours per day, maybe SSA would like to know about your abililty to sustain activity for at least 8 hours per day, 40+ hours per week, you can go get a job when they cut off your check.

Why are you answering for Wiseman, Un-Wiseman? Apparently you know him

And you really should get some new material. You've plagiarized everybody

This was e-mailed to me this morning by Oris Grim an old friend.

I happened to be traveling through Huntsville, Alabama early this morning, I deceided to stop in Athens and see just how tough Lloyd Davies was going to act when he saw me in person.

Many of you know that a few years ago, Lloyd got smart with several people in the Deja Newsgroup (now Google) and I issued a challenge to him. I told him I would be attending the Dalton, Ga. Hamfest if he wanted to continue the conversation. He said he would be there and he was going to kick my ass.

Well, Lloyd was a no-show and continued the verbal assault on the newsgroups. He always talks tough behind his keyboard. And, I understand he is now doing the same sort of thing on the NIM Busters Board.

Well, about 8.35 this morning (December 23, 2004) I located his apartment in a nasty looking section of town. I'm a pretty good sized man, but I put my gun in my back waistband after exiting the car. I located his apartment and knocked on the door. The doorbell was missing and bare wires were sticking out of the wall. I heard someone say I'm coming and shortly the door opened with a safety chain lock still engaged. He asked what I wanted and I introduced myself and asked if we could have a conversation. He turned white as a sheet and attempted to slam the door, but I already had a foot wedged in the opening. He started shaking uncontrollably and was shouting leave me alone, leave me alone! I told him he didn't seem so tough now face to face and then noticed a putrid odor of urine and he was pissing his pants and crying like a baby. Please leave me alone Oris he said, I was just having fun and meant no harm, please leave, please. I could see the filthy floor of this apartment and the dirty floors and the stench of a grown man pissing on himself were almost enough to make me want to vomit, and I don't have a queasy stomach. Upon telling him that this time he would escape a ass kicking and not to ever get a smart mouth with me again and a verbal yes from him, I departed. That apartment complex looked like a crackhouse, niggers everywhere, filthy grounds and stairwells. Junk cars everywhere and garbage overflowing the garbage cans.

This Lloyd is nothing more than white trash that delivers pizzas and could afford to take a trip out of town if the ticket cost $5.00.

I'm sending this to a friend who despises Lloyd Davies and he wanted to post it for everyone to see just what kind of chickenshit asshole this Davies really is.

Oris Grim

A lot of interesting stuff on that site.

But it does seem to perpetuate a ham-radio urban legend about why we hams use LSB on the HF/MF bands below 10 MHz and USB on the HF/MF bands above 10 MHz.

The much-repeated urban legend is that the convention comes from the use of early SSB
rigs that used a 9 MHz SSB generator and a 5-5.5 MHz VFO to cover 75 and 20 meters, and that the additive and subtractive mixing caused sideband inversion on one band but not the other.

Many hams did use SSB rigs with that heterodyne scheme. But it does not result in sideband inversion on either additive or subtractive mixing.

I found that Roger does, after all, have a sense of humor when he said,

"BTW, You seem to have left out the fact (not a surprise, since you are a pathological liar) that you had NO INTENTIONS of showing at any hamfests.."

For Roger to be calling ANYONE a pathological liar is quite the hoot! Thanks for the laughter, Wogie.

And for Roger to take someone to task for not showing at any hamfests, well that alone is worth a gut-busting laugh.

Roger has been posting that five year old alleged email for years now. When he has nothing to say about current affairs, he resorts to the old stuff in

I thought so too - and then I worked out the numbers.

Well, sort of.

The rule to remember is this:

In any heterodyne scheme there are three frequencies of interest - the input signal frequency, the output signal frequency, and the local oscillator frequency.

You only get sideband inversion if the local oscillator frequency is higher than both the input signal frequency and the output signal frequency.

Exactly.

Where this idea came from may be the fact that in the 5 MHz VFO/9 MHz SSB generator system, the tuning direction inverts between 75 and 20. On 20, increasing the VFO frequency makes the output signal frequency increase, but on 75, increasing the VFO frequency makes the output signal frequency decrease.

But the sideband does not invert.

It shows up from time to time, and on the surface looks very believable. But it's still wrong.

The standard for LSB below 10 MHz and USB above is older than the mid-1950s, too. As far as I can tell, it goes back at least to the late 1940s in amateur radio, almost a decade before "Cheap And Easy SSB" and the CE exciters (10A, 10B, 20A, etc.)

However, note this:

If you use an SSB generator in the 5 MHz frequency range (typically 5.2 MHz), and a VFO in the 9 MHz fequency range (typically 8.7 - 9.2 MHz) then you do get the desired sideband inversion without doing anything to the SSB generator. (the SSB generator is set to USB for this to work out.) Some SSB rigs like the National NCX-3 used this scheme successfully. They then switched the VFO to 12.2 - 12.5 to cover 40 meters.

> Live and learn, and my apologies to Jim

No biggie, it's an urban legend that has fooled many hams, myself included, until we bothered to sit down and work out the numbers.

The problem is that now that you know it's an urban legend, you have to disprove it when you hear or see it put forth as fact......;-)

I'm sure your life being a fired pizza boy and living at the Salvation Army shelter and depending on handouts to get your shitty Ford fixed has made you even more depressed, Lardass. Too bad you just don't slit your wrists now.

I got a big problem. It all started when I bought a DVD player. I was all excited to watch a movie and did not indeed put on my eye glasses. I got the thing plugged in and turned on, and then it said "Insert Disk". Without my glasses, I thought it said "Insert Dick", so I stuck my dick in the machine and the slide out door closed. That was 2 days ago. I live alone and dont have anyone to help. I thought of calling 911, but ideed it's too embarassing to call the cops and try to explain this to them. I know there must be some way to get my dick out of this thing. I hope someone on here can indeed tell me what to do. Please hurry, my dick hurts and has turned blue. This is indeed a a an a emergency.......

Last November 9, the FCC sent Wiseman a Warning
Notice in response to allegations of deliberate and malicious interference on 20 meters."

"GLENDALE, WV: The FCC requested July 11, 2000, that Roger L. Wiseman, KC8JBO, retake the General examination elements under the supervision of an ARRL-VEC volunteer examiner team. Wiseman must appear for retesting by September 11, 2000, or his license will be canceled.
Applicants appearing for re-examination are granted an Amateur Radio license consistent with the elements passed. The FCC had written Wiseman on March 29, 2000, advising that it had been made aware of "an ongoing personal dispute" between Wiseman and another licensee that included allegations of interference or jamming on 20 meters. FCC Special Counsel for Amateur Radio Enforcement Riley Hollingsworth invited the two licensees to contact him to discuss the matter.
Additionally, the FCC had sent Wiseman a Warning Notice last November in response to allegations of deliberate and malicious interference on 20 meters."

Nope, but being a fuck up is sort of standard operating procedure for you, isn't it?

Yes, November 9 of 1999.....Poor Lardass Davies, he forgets his butt buddy Gopher face Tunder got a letter, too.

Poor Lardass, nothing new.....nothing original

> LOL at the Glendale retard!

LOL at Lardass..he can't actually get anything right, so he digs up old shit that means nothing......
He forgets he can't even pass the dumbed down tests now, and that Marqueer recently tried to pass the Extra and couldn't.
Poor Lardass, he forgets:
NOTE: Issuance by the FCC of a Warning Notice indicates that the FCC has what it believes to be reliable evidence of possible rules infractions and not necessarily that the recipient has violated FCC rules. The FCC has the authority, pursuant to §97.519(d)(2) of the rules to readminister any examination element previously administered by a volunteer examiner.

Muwhahahahahaha!

Right. You're the guy who "does radio for a living" but doesn't "have time to chase down problems on a simple receiver." You also stated you spoke to a Northpoint technician but are unable to provide contact information for the (imaginary) tech.

I think you have your own half-business and either can't compete or are losing customers. Happens all the time in this industry and it used to be standard practice in this group for radio techs to come in here and slam the dealer taking away their business. Even those moved to create Web pages concerning their personal poor experiences with a company usually do not do so in anonymity. Anonymous, internet complaints against businesses carry no juice.

Gavy say's he has some juice for you!

1074. Why I do "On the Domestic Front" - lloyd the hog.jpg (0/1)

I enjoy doing my talk show. I enjoy the Radio hobby. My interests in Ham Radio are kinda a "escape" from my own personal hell.

I will be 33 years old in less than a month. I look at my life as a life that has been a lonely one.

I enjoy the "attention" I get from doing my shows and my posts calling myself a time lord. I suffer from depression alot of the time.

Just please try to understand me. That is all.

Nonsense. You ain't Lloyd, and you ain't Mark Morgan. Anyone who can read headers can see where you have screwed up in your attempts to impersonate each of them.

You seem to be obsessed with Lloyd; you seem to be in need of help.

If you have a virus you should reschedule your exam session. There's enough STD's in the amateur radio community.

Now click here

and study HARD Barnard.

You'll pass with flying colors.

Niggermania is the one stop shop of all things jiggaboo

Niggermanica are often accused of being "racists" full of "hate" towards niggers and nothing could be further from the truth. The webmassas of NIGGERmania don't hate niggers we understand niggers.

As Max Rainbeer once said "Niggermania is the one stop shop of all things jiggaboo." Niggermania is the one place on the web where the "nigger" is not only used but is encouraged.

The behavior of a rather dark skinned individual with very heavy sub-Saharan African genetic influence such that it represents crime as empirically outlined in terms of probability in the book RACE, EVOLUTION AND BEHAVIOR... The mania is any outrageous irrational evil behavior setting back humanity.

Niggermania, as in the LA Riot such that a massive display of niggermania created chaotic destruction all over the streets.

Don't stare a gift horse in the mouth, or so the saying goes. Mark's absence should be looked at as a welcome breath of fresh air.
You, Larry, should do as the rest of us are doing. Ignore him. Hopefully, Mark will move on to haunt other newsgroups or even the Nim Busters boards. Don't mention him and don't taunt him lest he return to spew more of his garbage.

I personally find the absence of Mark to be a very welcome respite.

Point well made, Eric. I would more than welcome seeing this group return to dealing with Amateur Radio topics. A return to civility would also go a long way...

Too bad that the likes of Mark and Wiseman will not allow same.

Now, Eric, I am going to get busy with putting up a horizontal loop for 80 meters while using the copper clad wire just delivered from The Wireman.

I'd like to catch you on the bands, but by necessity I am keeping my name and callsign out of the Newsgroup postings. I assume you understand why.

Mark IS a medical problem in that, apparently, he is a pain in your ass.
You can sit on it for years, but it won't go away and only gets worse.
Roger knows well how this works.

Not so. Woger is not speaking on 14.275. Yes, Woger is indeed a "sorry ass" but he lives in fear of RH. Woger may be a dolt, but he knows enough to not tempt the sword of Riley. Roger has thrice encountered the wrath of Riley and was forced to do a retest to keep his Ham license. Roger and Riley are on a first-name basis.
Tolassi is an altogether different study. David walks the fine line and is very much aware that he is being monitored. Roger refuses to enter into a QSO. He prefers to hide. David, on the other hand, is out front and "in your face". I enjoy listening to Tolassi. I further enjoy hearing the disgruntled Hams who try to disrupt his transmissions with their (illegal) maliciousness.
Take Tolassi with a grain of salt, guys. Enjoy the humor he provides. I'd much rather listen to him than that old Blowhard, Rich Whiten, who plagued the bands with his illegally powered amps and his racist comments.

Bottom line. Don't like listening to David? Go to another frequency. How simple is that?

1178. June CQ Editorial Calls the ARRL a "Secret Society"

Secret Society
zero bias - a CQ editorial
BY RICH MOSESON,* W2VU
e-mail: <w2vu@cq-amateur-radio.com>

The ARRL appears to be coming down with a case of "federalitis," mimicking the federal government's love of as much secrecy as possible as often as possible, revealing information only when absolutely necessary, and saying one thing while doing another. Two events of recent months illustrate this trend, although the ARRL has long been somewhat of a secret society.

Regulation by Bandwidth About a year and a half ago, in November, 2005, the ARRL petitioned the FCC to change from subdividing amateur bands on the basis of operating mode to the basis of maximum permitted bandwidth. This was the culmination of a multi-year process-ironically, one of the most open in memory-in which the ARRL repeatedly sought input from members before drafting the petition. The FCC assigned rule making number RM-11306 to the petition in January, 2006, and opened a one-month comment period. Many comments were filed on both sides of the question. CQ was among the commenters, agreeing in principle with the League's proposal but differing on some specifics.

In February, 2007, ARRL officials quietly met with FCC staffers to propose changes to the original petition, supposedly to "align" the details with the intervening rule changes, including the elimination of HF Novice bands, expansion of certain HF phone bands and the granting of limited HF privileges to all Technicians with the elimination of the Morse code exam requirement for amateur licenses. Even though this meeting was approved by the League Board of Directors at its January meeting, it was apparently done when the board met as a "Committee of the Whole" to discuss regulatory matters," and its discussions were not reported in the minutes.

The League properly filed the required notice of an "Oral Ex-Parte Presentation" in the online comment file, but did not publicly announce the meeting to its members or the amateur community at large. About a month later, someone in FISTS, the CW promotion organization, caught wind of the proposed changes,

saw something he/she didn't like, and raised the alarm.

Only then did the ARRL make a public statement, and only then did the League file an erratum with the FCC, claiming that the section that had gotten FISTS members up in arms was nothing more than a clerical error.

Plus, while the changes needed to "align" the proposal with the new rules would have been minor, what the ARRL proposed in that meeting was to virtually abandon the entire petition, limiting regulation by bandwidth only to frequencies above 28 MHz, where there's plenty of space for all sorts of activities. Why the secrecy?

Why not be above-board and simply withdraw the petition? And why, when news of the meeting was finally reported, did the League assure supporters that the board continues to stand behind the concept which it had just essentially abandoned? (For more on this issue, see our new online commentaries, called "For What it's Worth..." on the CQ website.)

Red Cross Wrangling

Another matter in which the ARRL has been heavily involved recently is the ongoing dispute with the American Red Cross over the breadth of its new requirement that all volunteers submit to a background check in order to work with the organization in a disaster. At first, it was not clear whether hams working with ARES (the ARRL's Amateur Radio Emergency Service) were subject to the requirement, since they were formally ARES volunteers, not Red Cross volunteers; plus there was the ongoing matter of the consent form providing permission for not only a criminal background check (to which virtually no one in the ham community objected) but also credit and "mode of living" checks.

A couple of months ago, the Red Cross appeared to back off on that requirement (see our April issue), stating that no mode of living checks would be conducted and that credit checks would be limited and require a separate consent form. However, the ARRL quickly pointed out to its members that the consent forms never changed to reflect the new policy and that anyone signing them was still authorizing the full battery of investigations.

The League got word of this inconsistency out quickly in early March, ahead of the Red Cross's self-imposed March 31st deadline for all volunteers to agree to the background checks. Two ARRL officials then met with Red Cross leadership in mid-March, clarifying the requirements as they applied to hams and determining that there were apparently no plans to change the consent forms (see this month's Public Service column for a report on that meeting). Inexplicably, though, it was not until mid-April, nearly a month after the meeting and two weeks after the March 31 deadline, that the League notified its members of the meeting and its outcome. Certainly, having this additional information would have beenhelpful to individuals in deciding whether to agree to the checks and continue as Red Cross volunteers or to say, "Sorry, I'll be volunteering my services elsewhere." Again, why the secrecy?

In truth, secrecy is nothing new for the ARRL. Its board meetings are open only to directors, vice directors, selected staff members and invited guests. Back when I was Northern New Jersey Section Manage-an ARRL elected official- I asked whether I might attend a board meeting as an observer and at my own expense. The request was denied quicker than I could blink. Regular members? Don't even think about it. This is a membership organization in which the members have very little impact on policy beyond electing board members every two years.

The big problem with all this secrecy is the impression that inevitably develops that there is something to hide. Questions are asked and doubts arise. Is there something going on behind the scenes (or under the table) that "they" don't want "us" to know about? Let me be clear that I am not suggesting that anything improper is actually going on, just that this sort of secrecy provides ammunition for those who are suspect of the League's motives to begin with. The ARRL is a membership organization that claims to be The National Association for Amateur Radio, even though it actually represents fewer than one in five licensed amateurs in the U.S. Nonetheless, it owes it to its members and the general ham community to be as honest, open and transparent as it possibly can.

We recognize that there are certain situations in which confidentiality is important, but as a general rule, there is no place in an organization such as the ARRL for secrecy and subterfuge. It needs to stop.-W2VU

Like our "criminally insane politicians" they imagine themselves to be our "leaders" (rulers would fit more adequately!) than the public servants we require.

They need to send out letter "questioners" to their members asking them how they (arrl) can best represent those members and act like the servants they need to be ... need I go on here?

did I, gues you se it diferently

I do saying passing messages in the mname of someone else on USENET is sign that the poster does indeed lack a life of his own

Subject: 1. Introduction

1.1) What this document is

This document represents an ongoing attempt to educate people about true freedom of speech among the emerging cyber-communities. There is a companion document to this, the USENET Site of Virtue FAQ, which should be read AFTER this document.

1.2) Prerequisites

If you don't know what Usenet is, you're reading the wrong document!

Go look in the newsgroup news.answers for appropriate introductory documents. There are many, and each has their own point of view. In order to understand the discussions here you should be familiar with USENET in general, and have a reasonable amount of experience posting and/or reading news.

If these documents are not in news.answers or news.announce.newusers on your site, they can be had by anonymous ftp from rtfm.mit.edu in the directory /pub/usenet-by-hierarchy/news/announce/newusers.

If you have a WWW browser, the following URLS should help you out:

It helps to be familiar with news administration, how news works in general, and have kept up in some discussions on news.admin.*, but this is not totally mandatory for understanding this document.

Also, you should believe that no expression, however annoying, profit-oriented or counterproductive, should be prevented from being distributed. If you do not believe in this way, this document will probably make you angry. (If that's what you want, then read it.)

The generic opposing document to this one is located at:

http://www.cybernothing.org/faqs/net-abuse-faq.html

Readers interested in the opposing viewpoints may wish to look at this URL for reference.

If you wish to see what flaming in FAQs is like, read the document that tries to respond to this document:

http://www.cybernothing.org/faqs/davehayes.html

See section 6 for a cute irony to this document.

Subject: 2. Background

For a long time, I've been a loud advocate of free speech in most of the USENET related administration groups. I've participated in a few net.political actions to ensure the freedom of speech that I'd like to enjoy. For my efforts, I've been publically branded a loon, insane, idealistic, moronic, obnoxious, wacko, a kook, and other expletives which I'd rather not go into.

Many times, I've repeated the same arguments over and over, all of which relate to this ultimate goal of absolute free speech. Well, after several years even a loon such as myself gets tired of repeating the same stuff over and over. It had been suggested that I write a FAQ of sorts on my ideas, and I felt the time was right, so here it is.

Herein lies the heart of my arguments, and questions with answers about them. The companion document, the USENET Site of Virtue FAQ describes a new credo that willing USENET participants can actually adopt and use if they so desire.

I implore you not to adopt -any- credo (even this one) or philosophy just because someone you see does so as well, for these credos only work for individuals who have personally and honestly decided that these are good ideas. Use your own judgement and take your power back from those who wish to steal it from you.

Subject: 3. Basic Definitions

Here are the definitions which you'll find apply to things in this document, and most of my arguments. It is suggested that the reader of this document adopt these definitions when reading as sort of a "preamble" to the works herein.

Beliefs - Networks of assumptions about the way things are.

Cabal - Those net citizens who by their own consensus reality, set themselves apart from and superior to usenet users and use this illusory superiority to restrict or censor any usenet user's attempts at communication through usenet.

Censorship - The attempt, successful or not, by an arbitrary set of human beings to remove the ability of any other arbitrary but disjoint set of human beings to perceive the intended Message of a human being. (See Message below)

Community - Any arbitrary group of human beings who gather together for one or more purposes. Synonym for Mob.

Content - That part of a message which does not contain items absolutely necessary for the proper transport of the message to its intended recipients.

Control - Regulation of activity and content. Also, that which should only be applied to oneself. The need to control others is a dishonorable symptom of the failed need to control oneself.

Ethics - Rules of conduct which appease and satisfy one's own true self.
Sometimes directly opposed to Morals.

Freedom - The ability of a person to execute any arbitrary action that the person desires.

Free Speech - That speech which does not conflict with Ethics.

Lawful Speech - That speech which does not conflict with Morals.

Message - Any usenet article which does not cause another article to be deleted from a news spool via anything other than the standard expiry functions of a news server.

Mob - Any arbitrary group of human beings who gather together for one or more purposes. Synonym for Community.

Morals - Rules of conduct which appease and satisfy a Community.
Sometimes directly opposed to Ethics.

Obligation - Required action due to previous agreement or condition. This is what most people call "responsibility".

Responsibility - A voluntary state of awareness, which results in actions for the highest and best good of one's self.
Also, your ability to respond. Responsibility can never be coerced or enforced, but must always be a free choice.

Subject: 4. Basic Philosophies

4.1) Declaration of Free Speech

We hold these Truths to be self-evident, that all Humans are created equal, that they are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Unhindered Communications, Unregulated Exchange of Ideas, and Freedom of Speech, that to secure these rights the Usenet is instituted on networks of the world, that when any administration of Usenet becomes destructive to these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it and to institue new administration, laying its foundation on such Principles, and organizing its Powers in such Form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Free Communication.

[With much thanks to the Declaration of Independence]

4.2) What is True Free Speech?

True Free Speech is that speech which is hindered by nothing other than the speaking individual's own Ethics.

Where True Free Speech exists, no external party may restrict someone else's speech, for any reason, period.

Speech, in the above definition, does not restrict another's speech.
It can't. It takes a person to act on that speech to restrict another's speech. That person, then, would be the responsible party.
A news admin setting up a news server to act is one way to create the illusion of speech-restrictive speech.

The litmus test for True Free Speech is speech that makes you -wantto silence another person. If that speech is not silencable by you (whether you want to or not), you have a state of True Free Speech.

4.3) What is net abuse?

Any action that stops a properly configured transport system from performing its normal store and forward services.

Examples of net abuse:
-Posting articles that directly crash the news server that is to inject the post into the news stream.
-Posting articles that contain control messages designed to crash news servers.
-Directly hacking into a news server to disable it.

Examples of things that are NOT net abuse:
-Volumnous posting
-SPAM
-Excessive crossposting
-Off topic posting
-Flaming or arguing

For the definition of "properly configured", you'll have to see the "Site of Virtue" FAQ.

4.4) What is Censorship?

See the definition of Censorship above.

Another definition for Censorship is the restriction of communicated ideas based on arbitrary acceptability standards of some Community.
This is a special case of the more general definition above.

On Usenet, Censorship is defined to occur via one or more of the following acts:

1 - Automatically reading or parsing certain specific headers of a news article to determine whether or not to accept the article. The following RFC 1036 headers can NOT be interpreted in any way, in order to avoid censorship:

Sender:
From:
Subject:
Approved:

2 - Reading or parsing the body of a news article to determine whether or not to accept the article. Cryptographic checksums are excluded from this criteria.

3 - Posting any message that would cause any other message to be deleted from one or more news spools. Note that this does -not-include removing another article via the expiry functions of a news server.

4 - Any invokation of the "Usenet Death Penalty", active or passive.
A passive UDP is the aliasing out of one or more sites from a newsfeed that are not directly connected to the news server. An Active UDP is essentially a cancelbot, and also covered by 3) above.

4.5) What is filtering?

Filtering is the act of taking responsibility for what you read by configuring your newsreader to present only what you want to see. This is a special and expected case of Censorship above, simply extended to include -you- as the remover of ability from others to communicate to yourself. This is the -only- acceptable form of censorship, IMO.

There will undoubtedly be articles you will see, whomever you are, that you do not like. Ultimately, however, filtering these articles out is the personal responsibility of every reader of Usenet.

There are many filtering techniques in use by modern newsreaders. Consult your newsreader's documentation for details on any of these methods, if they exist. These methods are (in no particular order):

- The "next message" key

ALL newsreaders can use this method, which is basically to stop reading and move on to the next article. There is a "next" key or button somewhere on your newsreader, and this is one of the first things you should find before beginning to read news.

-Menu Selection

Most newsreaders allow you to select articles presented on a menu. The menu usually contains the author, the subject, and date posted. This information alone, used correctly, can filter most unwanted trash for you if you select only those authors and subjects you are interested in.

-Threading

Some newsreaders "thread" articles, trying to preserve the "tree" of discussion. A thread is simply an article presented with all the articles that replied to the original article, and all the replies to the replies, and so on. Usually discussions happen in threads, which helps to pull the discussion out of the other articles so you can focus on it.

-Killfiles

Some newsreaders have a "killfile", which is essentially a list of authors you never want to see postings from. This solves the problem of an over-prolific poster whom you are tired of seeing.

As Russ Allbery says: "The most effective killfile is your own brain."

-Scoring

Some newsreaders, mostly UNIX based readers, have a feature called "scoring" which attempts to assign a numeric score to each and every article based on patterns in the headers or body. This is a very useful feature, as you can rate (say) the authors numerically and have your favorites show at the top.

The best way to use scoring is to define a "threshold" score such that articles below the threshold are silently ignored. Then it becomes easier to rate authors and subjects to maximal effect.

4.6) What is a Dishonorable ISP?

There are those who expend enormous amounts of energy to Censor articles, either by cancelling them or by complaining to the ISP of the poster. To the Free Speech Advocate, these are dishonorable actions at best.

However, if an ISP complies with the intent of these complaints, then that ISP is dishonorable. The aware Free Speech Advocate should pick another one, for the net effect of a dishonorable ISP is that anything controversial can be silenced with complaints.

Usually, dishonorable ISPs have wording to that effect in their Terms of Service or Acceptable Use Policy. Here is a gross example:

> "[...] While the freedom of speech is protected by the First > Amendment of the Constitution, any activity, action or e-mail from > any user that triggers complaints, hate-mail, or blocks on our > Domains at a particular site is prohibited. Dealing with these > complaints ties up computer and human resources. These are resources > that should be used to maintain the system and support our user > base. [...]"

Notice how easy it would be to silence a user at this ISP. Simply mail off your complaint, and convince 10 of your friends to help you.

Subject: 5. Frequently Debated Windmills

This section contains the many frequently debated arguments (with "Dave Hayes" like answers) over free speech issues. If you find yourself embroiled in a debate with a control freak, the information below should help you out. If you find yourself embroiled in a debate with me, you might want to save time and read below.

5.1) Arbitrary notions of "net abuse"

Many vocal opponents to free speech tend to cite "abuse" as their only reason for not embracing freedom. Here are some common strawman assertions and their rebuttals.

- Free speech is all well and good, but what is to prevent someone from unreasonable users from committing "net-abuse"?

The fallacy here is that someone else is defining "net-abuse" quite differently than I do above.

Any label of "net-abuse" is based on an arbitrary standard of conduct held by a person or group of people (even mine). There is nothing that says that this standard of conduct is the one true and right standard of conduct. People's standards vary.

You, as a free person, have an unalienable right to a choice as to whether or not to adopt any standard of conduct. This is based on your ethics, not their morals. Thus, if someone labels you "unreasonable", that's not your problem...it's theirs.

I'm not saying you should now go out and kill someone. I'm merely stressing the importance of ethics, internal codes of conduct which you will not violate (because -you- wrote them), in determining whether or not you did something wrong.

- But there IS a general consensus on what net abuse is! Most news admins have adopted it.

There is a strong vocal minority of news admins who constantly preach the same party line (see definition of Cabal above), and it is a tactic of propaganda to keep repeating the same thing over and over again hoping it will be eventually regarded as true.

In fact, don't let anyone fool you into believing that there some written consensus on or standard of net.abuse. There isn't, and if it claims to be, you can determine the invalidity of such a claim by observing just how many people argue about it. Without a consensus, it's quite arbitrary as to what people will claim abuse is.

If someone has written up something, think about whether you agreed to abide by it or not before the fact when you are called to task on some violation. It is the root of dishonor to hold someone responsible to a code of conduct they didn't know about. Not only does this not work, but it's damn unfair.

You may get localized consensi who decide to act not unlike the street gangs in LA or the legal gangs in American Federal Government, armed with some random form of authority (e.g. weapons, laws, shell scripts), they attempt to bully people into submission into their way. This does not mean that there is a general consensus. You can't expect 50,000 or more who come to a consensus on an issue this complex.

Typically, the label of abuse is used as a wedge to stop someone from posting something that isn't liked, but this isn't always the case. Sometimes, people are genuinely trying to help but are misinformed as to how to do it. Such people should be gently reminded of the arbitrary nature of their standards, wide variety of people on the net, and existance of their killfile.

5.2) The fallacy of "harm"

Some strawmen advocates go so far as to imply that "harm" comes from speech. In fact, I can think of no thing more incapable of producing harm than speech itself. To wit:

- We can't allow free speech. What if something extremely damaging is posted?

Any "damage" that arises out of speech is not caused by the speech itself, but by those who listen and then subsequently act. Speech in and of itself does not "damage" anything.

Another way this strawman can easily be debunked by recognizing who is defining 'damage'. See above, as this is the same as saying something is "net-abuse".

The true test of freedom of expression is when the advocates of True Free Speech are confronted with expression that they find they would like to silence.

If this test is passed, the expression remains a thorn in their side. The thorn serves a great purpose as a reminder of the true freedom they have.

If this test is failed, soon one thing is silenced, and then another. Quickly the entire philosophy of True Free Speech soon crumbles. Worse, true freedom of expression becomes a bad thing in the eyes of the people who tried. "After all, people will abuse anything if given the chance", they'll say.

We already have true freedom. We just keep agreeing to give it up for the sake of some illusion of safety.

- But there really are damaging things that can be posted!

Well. You didn't listen above. Let me try another way. Here are some commonly dredged up examples of "damaging" information:

* recipes for strong encryption
* pornography and obscenity
* recipes for making chemical, biological, and atomic weapons
* recipes for making counterfeit money
* personal information which should be left private

Dr. Dimitri Vulis said it really succinctly:

"Posting such information to Usenet doesn't force anyone to use it to take some illegal action. And even if publishing such information by itself violates your local laws, it's up to your local law enforcement agents to silence you, not the Usenet Cabal."

The key here is self-control. Control of others is usually a symptom of a need to control oneself coupled with a lack of willingness to exert such control. We, as humans, cannot successfully and efficiently control other humans, therefore our controlling impulses should be directed at ourselves.

-Freedom of speech does not mean yelling FIRE! in a crowded theater.

Patently false. Yes, it does mean that. It doesn't mean you -do- that, it means you have the freedom to do that.

Practically, if you hear someone yell "FIRE!" then you have some decisions to make. Are you going to believe that person or not, especially when you see nothing? If you do believe this person, are you going to run for the door like a crazed animal, or quickly make your way to the exit in a civilized manner?

Whichever you choose, it's -your- choice and -your- responsibility. It is -not- the responsibility of the person who yelled "FIRE!" that -you- chose one direction or another.

Thinking that it is the responsibility of the person who yelled "FIRE!" strips your power away from you and makes you not responsible for your life. Is that what you want?

5.3) The existance of the Cabal

Many debaters commonly forget that I define "Cabal" differently (see definitions above) than everyone else. There is a reason for this definition, it allows Free Speech Advocates to quickly determine who is clearly not a Free Speech Advocate.

- (TINC) There Is No Cabal. Anyone saying this is obviously a kook.

(TISACSMF) There Is So A Cabal, See My Faq. :)

Anyone denying the existance of a cabal, and in the same posting labeling someone with a label designed to inferiorate, is clearly a Cabal member by my definition.

To deny the Cabal is to say that no one fits the definition, which is patently false since examples pass through Usenet every day (one example being Spam Cancels). Thus anyone denying the Cabal's existance is attempting to hide the fact that it does exist, which helps the Cabal and therefore implies that the denyer is a Cabal member themselves.

Besides, if there was a "secret society", what better way to hide it than by denying it and causing those who do not to look foolish?

The Cabal generally works in concert with each other over their own private channels of communication. You can tell a Cabal member by the arrogant holier-than-thou way that they refuse or block your attempts at communication, regardless of external perceptions of reasonability about those attempts.

Just to be clear, I have no reason to believe that all of these people are acting out of deliberate malice. It's simply a trait of human beings to abuse positions of power and respect to their own ends. In this case this trait is damaging the freedom of usenet.

5.4) The uselessness of reputations

Human beings are not perfect. A precedent of consistent action is not guaranteed to produce that consistency in the future. To wit:

- You can't think like that. Your reputation will suffer.

The value of a set of words is contained within the set of words, NOT in who said them. It is a common mistake of most human beings to judge the validity of a set of words mostly upon the reputation of the messenger.

- If a lot of people complain about someone, there must be something that person is doing wrong.

Just because a mob comes to your door and demands to lynch someone, doesn't mean that the someone in question did anything worthy of being lynched. Usenet has become mob-oriented with several issues, most notably "Spam", demonstrating the new jargon term "cybermob".

Mobs are generally ignorant, dense, and single-minded. They have a tendancy to be created and sustained by emotional issues, with subsequent loss of sanity for most involved. Do you really want to trust the judgement of someone else to the effects of this phenomena?

Yes, once you become a sysadmin, the rest of the Usenet community will expect that you are prepared to discipline your users when they engage in whatever they decide to call net-abuse. (Hopefully, by then, you will have grown past that).

What does this discipline really accomplish? Usually, nothing.

- Someone is defaming me. They should be silenced.

Forget USENET, what if these people were to say the same things in person, or to other people while you are not present?

Again, Free Speech requires that people have the ability to defame you. Remember that you also have the ability to defend yourself. If such defamation gets too intense, see your lawyer, and attempt to get the defamer to agree to stop.

- If you argue for free speech, people aren't going to take you seriously.

This is an emotional hostage strawman. The arguer is attempting to play on your need to be taken seriously to coerce you into doing things their way...or they won't take you seriously.

There are others who won't take you seriously if you cave into these coercions. Still, others won't take you seriously at all. If we become affected by everyone's impressions of us, we will certainly be candidates for an insane asylum. (Maybe we already are...)

I would think that you don't really need to be taken seriously by anybody who would attempt to coerce you in this way.

5.5) The bludgeon of ownership

Citing ownership of the press does not justify any attempt to censor based on that ownership. In fact, using ownership as a "bludgeon" to stamp out views that are disagreed with is still Censorship, even though it may be justified by the definition of ownership.

- Free speech means the ability to say what you want. It does not guarantee you _where_ you want to say it and _how_ you want to say it.

This is a definitions strawman. Simply put, this definition of free speech is not useful, and hardly free.

If you can't say something where and how you want to say it, is your speech truly free? It cannot be, since someone who can control where and how you speak can interfere with your ability to communicate, thus restricting your freedom.

To put this another way: would you like some arbitrary person telling you where and how you can say certain things? I can see it now:

"Sure you have free speech, at 3AM on channel 145 for 2.5 minutes."

Anyone using this argument has no understanding or desire for freedom of speech, by the very fact that they use this argument.

- USENET operates on certain principles. Create your own net if you don't like the way it runs.

This is a political hostage strawman. The arguer is attempting to convince you that everyone else likes things the way they are, and that everyone else is in control of USENET.

If you are running a site, this is patently false. USENET is a collective anarchy, where site admins have authority over their part of the collective.
You have absolute control over your site to run it any way you want to, which unfortuantely includes the ability to commit acts of Censorship.

If you aren't running a site, don't waste your breath arguing with these people. Find a Site of Virtue to post from, and support Sites of Virtue. That way, we -will- create our own net.

-But this is Usenet, a place where speaking is a privilege, not a right.

That all depends on your site admin. If you are at a Site of Virtue, speaking is a right.

- It's wrong to force me to read your trash.

Given that people have to manually select articles from a menu, it's hard to imagine someone forcing their fingers to press certain keys in a certain order, so that people are forced to read anything.

Indeed, the entire concept of force becomes ludicrous when one recognizes that one can simply close one's eyes and not read anything presented to them.

This does bring up a point, however. There -is- a place for censorship. Your personal newsreaders. See the section on filtering above.

- But who gave you free speech rights on my computer?

YOU did when you loaded the news transport software. According to RFC1036, making a news server and getting a feed allows the transport of messages between your news server and another.

If you do -not- specifically filter messages, any messages are allowed by implication.

Retroactively claiming that these messages stole resources from you is patently and arrogantly without basis. You are providing resources simply by attaching a server daemon to an NNTP port and accepting articles, via this you have agreed to let other people scribble onto your disk by implication.

Turn off your daemon if you don't want that. Filter incoming articles if you are still finicky about what you are going to accept (and if you do you are not a Site of Virtue). But you may not usefully demand that someone else stop posting because it's "your" disk if you open your port to a full feed of Usenet.

- Usenet is free. Internet service isn't.

Oh come on. This is confusing 'free=not under control of some arbitrary power' and 'free=without cost or payment; gratis'.

You shouldn't be paying for censored news. If you are, you are probably wasting your money.

Subject: 6. A response to the "Alternative View" of this Alternative View.

Consider the following excerpt from this FAQ:

"While all of the people who call themselves 'Freedom Knights' give lip sevice to free speech, some of the most prolific of them seem to be more interested in gaining power for themselves. They have been known to post things like 'newsadmins are not necessary to the people's usenet,` which is patently ludicrous because news servers do not run themselves, or ad-hominem attacks against people who do not take them seriously, such as accusing UUnet newsadmin David Lawrence of raping children.
These so-called Freedom Knights have done more to hurt the credibility of Dave Hayes and his goals than anything else ever could."

I find it laughingly ironic that the news admins who are interested in "gaining power for themselves" can spot this so readily in those who call themselves Freedom Knights. This is a fine example of a characteristic nature of humans: that which pisses us off the most is but a reflection of our own nature.

Most of these people (including that FAQ writer) cannot read. Here are some things I think people should know.

-No one is known as a Freedom Knight by calling themself that. Freedom Knights are known by their deeds. Some on the Freedom Knights mailing list have taken to harsh actions. That is their business, and not mine. They are not only there on the list as an excellent litmus test for free speech...but most of those people they are referring to have been so fed up with the fascist-like actions of the news Cabal that they are through being nice.

-Credibility is ultimately a fool's desire. I am rarely willing to put myself at the mercy of someone else's standard of right and wrong, but even if I was to do so...I can think of no worse group of cliquishly machevellian people to enslave my actions to than those Cabal members who are the denziens of news.admin.*.

Subject: 7. Viewpoints, Case Histories, and Stories

Often, the dishonorable acts of administrators can cause radical changes in people's willingness to cooperate and a person's direction of participation. In this section, I offer the words, viewpoints, histories, and stories of other people on the net who have been the effect of a rogue administrator or clan thereof. One more time, I did not say these things.

In order to debias the stark content of the words, the identities of these people are being left to the imagination of the reader. Please try and see what they are saying, rather than attempting to guess who said it.

7.1) One user's viewpoint of net history and politics

UUNET was a for-profit company from its very beginning, at least 10 years ago. It used to get lots of $$$ from the U.S.Government. Now it's no longer getting $$ from the government, so it tries to peddle its services to businesses and the general public. One of the services they sell is the access/feed to Usenet.

UUNET did not create Usenet, contrary to what they may claim, and have no right to control anything in it. In fact, most of the cabal members who try to gain control of Usenet are relative newcomers who have made no contributions to the development of Usenet.

When I started reading Usenet about the time of the Great Renaming, the various folks who cooperated on setting up Usenet (mostly sys admins at schools and research labs) agreed on a more-or-less democratic procedure for creating new newgroups: the proponent would conduct a poll to see if there's enough interest to warrant creating the group. The poll had to rely on the honor of the participants: they were expected to vote once, and to vote NO for valid reasons. Once the poll was completed, someone would issue a 'newgroup' control article and all sites would create the newsgroup.

This was before David Lawrence and all the other human trash that came onto Usenet later and became known as the 'usenet cabal'. Here are some of the changes the Cabal attempted to institute in the group creation process:

1. One of the cabal members, Kent Paul Dolan, was caught blatantly cheating in the poll for the newsgroups who reorg he proposed. Rather than penalize the cabal, the cabal imposed on the rest of the Usenet a system of 'Usenet volunteer votatakers'. This way, the cheatting by Cabal members would be harder to detect.

Basically, when one of their own was caught cheating, they created the system off UVV's that inconvenienced everyone _other_ than the cabal and made the blatant cheating by the likes of Jan Isley and Bill Aten harder to detect.

2. The function of spaff used to be to announce the results of the interest polls. However there was at least one case when a sex-related newsgroup passed the 'vote' and David Lawrence refused to create it. (I guess he's not into sex.) This was before the cabal started rigging 'votes' making them totally meaningless. Today the Cabal would have just forged enough anonymous no votes.

3. Another change instituted by the Cabal a few years ago is the requirement that before a new group proposal even gets to the uvv 'vote', it must go through a cabal screening process known as 'group-advice'. Examples of group-advice's censorship include the recent announcement that no new unmoderated newsgroups will be permitted in soc.culture.* (too much flaming going on in the existing newsgroups), and their insistence that most new newgroups be moderated -- with the cabal picking subservient moderators.

Usenet is a popular store-and-forward conferencing system. There are other such systems, like Fidonet. Those who don't like free Usenet should go elsewhere to sergvices like AOL or COmpuServe or Prodigy and have their own censored forums there. They must not be allowed to take over Usenet.

Again, INN comes configured to honor all of tale's newgroups, but not newgroups issued by others. Honorable sites, like Netcom, honor all newgroups and drop all rmgroups. [Editors note: this may have changed at the time of this writing.]

Because 'tale@uunet.uu.net' is a generic name used by INN, David Lawrence no longer has any exclusive right to it. Anyone is free to issue newgroups and rmgroups in tale's name. However it's more honorable to issue newgroups under one's own name.

It is not our objective to destroy the UVVs or the group advice. Rather, we seek to deprive them of their monopoly. ANYONE can issue a newgroup on Usenet.

The UVV, the group-advice, et al, should be free to play their silly power games, to hold rigged elections, and to newgroup or rmgroup anything they like. Sites are free to honor only tale's newgroups/rmgroups, which is the default INN confoguration. We hope that the majority of Usenet sites will choose to act honorably and carry ALL newsgroups. We also expect that most new newsgroup proponents won't deal with the dishonest and abusive group-advice, because they won't have to -- they can get pretty good propagation by issing the newgroup themselves. No one but masochists and cabal members will go through the humiliating and unpleasant process of getting 'advice' from group advice, because the marginal gain (the sites who'll carry cabal's groups, but not free groups) will be immaterial. Let the cabal create a moderated news.groups and news.admin.net-abuse.* if they want to. They have lost control of the group creation process and will never regain it.

Tale got into the position of issuing newgroups for the new newsgroups that passed the vote by default: spaff quit and no one else wanted to take this boring duty. However tale's been trying to abuse this position to silence his opponents and to make a few quick bucks for UUNET. So far, he's only hurt UUNET with his net-abuse.

7.2) An excerpt from the alt.sex.sounds FAQ

In closing I'd like to add something VERY funny I found in regards to ADMIN-TYPES that have become over-zealous and closed-minded. It was posted in news.admin.net-abuse.misc by imp@yoyo.mil (impLAnt) . I found it to be one of the funniest, most on-target articles I have ever read. Enjoy. Keep your minds open and your tapes rolling.

peter@nmti.com (Peter da Silva) wrote:

[Fr cuckoo or coo-coo; early 1900's; crazy, very eccentric = nutty; fr the bird _cuculus canorus_, that cries "coocoo", remarkable for depositing its eggs in the nests of other birds].

Beyond the KoTM definition, we also tend to file under "kook" those self-important, self-aggrandizing sysadmin sorts. Chiefly, the ones who've dug their little net.techie foxholes a little too deeply to see out of: who have spent too many man-years politicking, sucking up, and worming their way into imaginary "status"; and are now unable to think rationally or philosophically in "real world" terms because they no longer have a "real world" for reference.

The term "foxholes" is used advisedly, for they see USENET as war...replete with dehumanized "enemies" and various acts of high-tech propoganda, disinformation, and subterfuge. As un-hired, non-paid and non-professional rogue mercenaries, they somehow believe their own "devotion" and "contributions to the net" [read: years of phony obsessive altruism] must be repaid by the "users" they typically degrade and disrespect.

This infectious fascism manifests itself, Stockholm syndrome-like, within these same "users" in the form of domain ghettoization (a la AOL) and vigilantism (complaint-generators and net.cop wannabes). The fallout from such shenanigans instills a general fear & loathing; their circa 1985 model of USENET withstands neither the onslaught of traffic, nor the freedoms "users" demand and expect as manifest destiny. The fact that the world will little note nor long remember them confuses no one else; that USENET simply needs them no longer (if ever) is a jagged little pill they can't seem to swallow.

Sounds like your footwear, Peteness. When the jackboot fits...

7.4) On the nature of Usenet

USENET is a seedling to the forest it shall become. Besides being our only public DTDP (different time, different place) CMC (computer mediated communication) medium, it is our only many-to-many medium. The tools have been so crude as to practically be unuseable; its pioneers and providers a power-mongering elite.

This is being remedied.

All other mediums Mankind has gifted (cursed?) itself with have been One-to-Many, with the many influenced by the decisions of a few. But USENET represents the greatest decentralization in the dissemination of communication since the printing press. "Great is jornalism," wrote Thomas Carlyle in _History of the French Revolution_, "for every able editor is now a ruler of the world." With USENET we see that A.J.

Leibling's quip "Freedom of the press only applies to those who own one"
is, after all, finally made a lie.

We all own one.

It is important to defend those attacked by the few who will not acknowledge this Truth. But it is more important to illustrate the true promise and import of what USENET is and shall ever become. This next quantum leap into a hive of human communication shall not be corrupted and debased by Censors and Moderators. Working to revert our Many-to-Many back to some old One-to-Many rules-based paradigm, they shall be defeated.

This is the fight of a Freedom Knight.

Finally found a workable censorship definition. Cleaned up a few inconsistancies. This one should fly better.

Revision 1.10 1997/08/19 06:56:10 dave
Lots of things, added more in table of contents, attempted to tie together the 'strawman' section, added more definitions, added suggestions, and updated as much as I could.

Revision 1.9 1996/09/30 06:37:19 dave
Added section 5.1. Added the funny blurb from alt.sex.sounds.
(ROFL)

Revision 1.8 1996/04/27 19:52:01 dave
Added reference to J.D. Falk's FAQ after he agreed to reference this FAQ in his.

Revision 1.7 1996/04/16 08:31:53 dave
Added section 6

Revision 1.6 1996/03/13 22:56:11 dave /Added Dr. Vulis suggested changes: Approved line = censorship, examples of speech commonly considered damage, other misc.

Revision 1.5 1996/03/04 00:03:59 dave
Added definition of Cabal

Revision 1.4 1996/02/28 21:53:33 dave Changed libel back to defamation.

Revision 1.3 1996/02/28 00:32:34 dave Changed "slander" to "libel", as the latter is more appropriate for USENET.

Revision 1.2 1996/02/19 08:16:15 dave
Tightened up the definition of TFS, added a definition for Censorship, added a few words here and there for da flow.

Revision 1.1.1.2 1996/02/19 07:52:11 dave

Where is YOUR "working" station, Mark? All we have is your word that you have worked EME, but even that is in question.
We have yet to hear you on HF.

The spirit of your post is not only well taken here, it is appreciated for the thought and logic you have applied ...

Possibly the only point I can find to differ with you on is profanity and obscenity, these should never be allowed in a forum where the general population is not wanting of them and one is not expecting them (most groups are not sex or perversion orientated--the group name should provide some indication of ones expectations--and these things around youngsters troubles me ESPECIALLY.)

The rest I will have to give some thought to, however, on the surface you post proposes sanity--a thing of scarcity these days. And, amateurs have always been a rag-tag group with a preponderance of misfits, kooks and loons interspersed with some of sheer genius ... they have no knowledge of this, the kooks are as likely to think themselves geniuses, as the geniuses are to consider themselves odd ... go figure.

I don't know how old you are, but since you father is in poor health, you probably will be too at that age and before me. My parents are both alive and have no health problems whatsoever. Furthermore, I don't have a large legion of "victums" as you say. There are no "victurms", only Kooks who think they can shit on everyone's posts without getting a response from the group, and when the response comes, they cry "I am a VICTUM, the eternal VICTUM". 4.6) What is a Dishonorable ISP?

There are those who expend enormous amounts of energy to Censor articles, either by cancelling them or by complaining to the ISP of the poster. To the Free Speech Advocate, these are dishonorable actions at best.

However, if an ISP complies with the intent of these complaints, then that ISP is dishonorable. The aware Free Speech Advocate should pick another one, for the net effect of a dishonorable ISP is that anything
controversial can be silenced with complaints.

Usually, dishonorable ISPs have wording to that effect in their Terms of Service or Acceptable Use Policy. Here is a gross example:

> "[...] While the freedom of speech is protected by the First > Amendment of the Constitution, any activity, action or e-mail from > any user that triggers complaints, hate-mail, or blocks on our > Domains at a particular site is prohibited. Dealing with these > complaints ties up computer and human resources. These are resources > that should be used to maintain the system and support our user
> base. [...]"

Notice how easy it would be to silence a user at this ISP. Simply mail off your complaint, and convince 10 of your friends to help you.

That's the truth, here's what this dishonorable ISP (CTITECH) has in their TOS

1. You may not post or transmit any message anonymously or under a false name

2. You may not post or transmit any message which is libelous defamatory or which discloses private or personal matters concerning any person. You may not post or transmit any message, data, image or program which is indecent, obscene or pornographic.

3. You may not post or transmit any message, data, image or program that would violate the property rights of others, including unauthorized copyrighted text, images or programs, trade secrets or other confidential proprietary information, and trademarks or service marks used in an infringing fashion.

4. You may not interfere with other users use of the Service.

5. You may not post or transmit any file which contains viruses, worms, "Trojan horses" or any other contaminating or destructive features.

6. You may not post or transmit any message which is harmful, threatening, abusive or hateful. It is not the Service's intent to discourage you from taking controversial positions or expressing vigorously what may be unpopular views; however, Computer Techniques Inc. reserves the right to take such action as it deems appropriate in cases where the Service is used to disseminate statements which are deeply and widely offensive and/or harmful.

7. You may not post or transmit charity requests, petitions for signatures, chain letters or letters relating to pyramid schemes. You may not post or transmit any advertising, promotional materials or any other solicitation of other users of the Service for goods or services except in those areas (e.g., a classified bulletin board) that are designated for such purpose.

8. You may not post or list articles which are off-topic according to the description of the group or list or send unsolicited mass emailing's to more than twenty-five (25) email users.

9. You may not use the facilities and capabilities of the Service to conduct any activity or solicit the performance of any illegal activity or other activity which infringes the rights of others.

There you go right there, that IS a dishonorable ISP. There are no rules, regulations or laws which prevent someone from using a fictitious name--they are making there own up!

There ARE laws from from keeping someone from use a fictitious name to defraud, commit a crime, evade police, etc., etc. ...

But this is not a free speech issue.

Free speech means being able to speak your mind. If you get hauled off for doing that, like the Wobblies in their Free Speech Campaign in the early 1900s, then there is no free speech.

But, if you can say something there, and not say it over there, then it's not a free speech issue, since nobody has prevented you from speaking.

That means that if you spray paint a slogon on someone's wall, you'll be arrested for spray painting someone's wall, not because of what you wrote.

It also means that a newspaper isn't restricting your free speech
if they won't print your letter to the editor, or in some other way print your viewpoint. They aren't preventing you from publishing your broadside yourself, and distributinting it, they aren't preventing you from getting onto a soapbox on a busy street and speaking your mind.
All they are saying is that they won't print your letter, and it could indeed be fore a variety of reasons, such as lack of space, a realization that their readership might not be interested, or even that they don't agree with what you are saying. They have no obligation, and not printing the letter is not curtailing your freedom of speech.

People confuse the right to say something with the distribution of what they want to say. If you aren't willing to pay to distribute your words, then why would a newspaper feel they have to pony up the money to distribute your words?

There are thousands and thousands of newsgroups, devoted to thousands of topics, and that ensures your right to speek is not violated. There are even dead newsgroups that amount to that soapbox off in the corner of the park. If you want more listeners, then you have to do the work to attract them.

But instead, people think it's their right to post wherever they want.
So it doesn't matter what the topic of the newsgroup is, it only matters that they feel they have the right to jam their free speech down the throats of others. They leech of the on-topic posts, which bring an audience, and yet then think it's their right to say whatever they want. The ironic part is that they need the on-topic audience for their "free speech" to work, yet they forgot that every time they post off-topic, they drive more and more people away. Their "free speech" has done damage, not because of what they are saying, but because of what they say it.

You don't have the right to yell "fire" in a crowded theatre, unless there really is a fire. Not allowing you to do so does not restrict your "freedom of speech".

It's the same with newsgroups. Trying to keep off-topic junk or nonsense posts that just ruin the newsgroup is not a violation of "free speech", it's about keeping an area clean.

All the off-topic junk has done here is to drive people away, that there is a moderated newsgroup is not taking away anyone's "free speech", since the spewers continue to think they have the "right" to spew here.

"Freedom" also entails responsibility.

It strikes me that at least the ISP which Todd refers to >>IS<< taking some responsibility in assisting law enforcement by denying access to

Indeed, I am aware of the witness protection program giving false identities to whole families to protect them (bet some family members go on to commit crimes under these new names too!) Every citizen here is first responsible for his/her own protection. If assuming a false identity for ones protection is against the law, I should wonder if I am still living in America or not?

Anyone giving up personal liberty for safety is not only a wimp, he/she is a clear and present danger to America, motherhood, brotherhood and the colors of green and grey! He/she deserves NO protection, let alone consideration!

Of course, here in California, the mooselums already own most hotels/motels and convenience/"mom & pop" stores, why not ISP's, newspapers, magazines and phone companies next? Why control our own communications when the enemy can do it cheaper? :-(

The problem with Child Porn is what the courts have stated it is and what people think's it is, Pornography itself is not illegal, as a matter of fact the US Supreme court has ruled that Pornography IS protected by the first Amendment, unless it is deemed Obscene by the courts. Child porn is illegal, not because of what it expressing, but how it is created, by the harm of real children. Virtual Child porn although many might find distasteful is protected by the first Amendment unless it is deemed obscene, by the courts, has first Amendment protection and is LEGAL. The Federal Courts has also stated that the Internet Service provider does not have any control of what is on their users computer, only what is on their (the ISP) server.

The problem with that is there is such a thing as fair use, and Some Intellectual property owners view of what fair use is and what the courts has stated what fair use is two different things. I hold a number of copyrights and I'm a strong believer in fair-use. Groups like the RIAA and the MPAA makes all intellectual property owners look bad.

The problem with that one is What is the definition of interfere with other users, I have a little insight into how the internet works (I've been on it since 1993) and the only way a person can "interfere with someone's elses service is if the gobble up all the bandwith

There are federal Laws and state and federal agencies that over see that issue(ask the DOJ)

No I don't, there are laws on the books now (federal laws) that make that illegal to threaten people over the internet, cyberstalking and selling real child porn, It should be the police and the federal agencies, who is required by Law going after the bad guys, If a ISP see child porn they should report it to the authorities. ISP's should also be made aware by these agencies of what is Legal and what is Illegal so not to pull material that is protected by the first amendment, we don't need ISP's Supressing LEGAL FREE SPEECH

Toddie. Morally speaking, there are many of us who feel that your sick cartoons of naked children are still just that. Child porn.
Cartoons or not, legal or not, Child Porn in any form is considered to be the effort of a sick mind for some sort of sick sexual gratification. There certainly is no "art" involved.
Depictions of grown men invading the vagina of a small, female child are sick, sick, sick, though such depictions obviously turn you on.
Obviously you are sick, sick, sick, too.

Do you look at these cartoons and wish you were there, Todd? Since you obviously cannot attract an adult female, do you wish you could violate a child? Do you stare at these things while "thumping" yourself beneath your Daddy's desk?

You are what? In your early thirties and still living at home? Under your Daddy's roof?

You ain't "all there" in the head, Toad.

You are not empowered to moderate this group, so get over it.

> I happen to think your homophobia is sick I try not to go on about and > I don't try to stop you from posting something on topic

Your idea of what is "on topic" doesn't give you the right to thread jack. Your attempts at censorship have resulted in an ongoing spew in this group, and if you had any pride, you would be ashamed of yourself.

As to objecting to an amateur (N9OGL) posting cartoon pornography, that's pretty much on topic, especially since it's the reason that he lost two ISPs as other amateur operators reported him.

And it sure as hell isn't "homophobia" to object to such things, "Oh Mark With a Chip on His Shoulder."

Judging by Todd's vile cartoons, posted both to his Google blog and shared by him from his own server (and he once claimed to share his porn over packet radio too), it is inevetable that people will suspect Todd of being a closet pedophile. Nevertheless, Todd isn't disruptive.

You, on the other hand, are.

No, what everyone should really notice is how the discussion evolved into a discussion about ISP's, Todd's use of such to distribute his "art", and how MARK MORGAN had to repeatedly interject himself into the thread until it became all about him so he could cry "Eternal Victum", and then complain about thread hi-jacking.

Mark Morgan = Thread Hi-Jacker and Usenet KooK.

Morality is like an opinion, everyone has their own definitions of what is morally right or wrong, Secondly it it LAW that governs this country, not morality, if you want to live in a moral-based country ran by morals (including those of a religious nature) go live in Iran.
As for ART, go to school (and I mean a University) and learn something about art like I have, because frankly you don't know shit about art.
Most people who are are into children, are not going to look at cartoons, they are going to look at real pictures. As the Supreme Court stated if Child molestors or those who where interest in child Porn where using cartoons and virtual child porn, the the real child porn market would be dried up, the fact according to the FBI it hasn't, it's accually grown bigger. In fact there is more real child porn out there then there is Virtual child porn including cartoons. So perhaps you and your BUTT BUDDY BRAIN "THE RAT FINK" CROW should know what the fuck your talking about when it comes to me before you open your BIG FUCKING MOUTH!!!

No mistakes at all. You are still responding to my every post, I took your blog, I outed your wife as you say, I proved that your are a liar which you have admitted, and most of all, I have made you dance for months like a little chimp, making you go off on tangents spamming this NG. Like you did tonight, posting the same thing with different subject titles on 5 seperate posts.

Ma ma monkey Markie, would you like a banana now?

You are once again off topic, Morkie-Poo. And, as Dloyd has pointed out time after time, you just HAVE to hijack a thread and make it all about YOU and your odd, sexual proclivities.
It is always YOU who is the eternal "victum" and it is always YOU who is being set upon by the alleged bullies of Usenet.
Yes, there is Morkie, standing bravely (in your warped thinking) and facing directly into the winds of adversity as he defends and flaunts his strange behavior patterns.
Tally Ho! Morkins....continue jousting with those windmills! The rest of us are watching your ludicrous displays and laughing at your untimely approach of senility.

The Dancing Monkey doesn't see it that way. Can't see it that way.

The Monkey has a right...nay, compulsion, to switch the topics as per his whim. But, by God, don't you dare do that to one of his threads!

Dancing Monkeys are entertaining to watch as they prance disjointedly around the Master as the Master controls the tempo of the music box.
In the case of Usenet, Mark has many "masters", but he dances especially nicely to the tunes of Dloyd and Steve and, on occasion, Roger.

It's that OCD malady again....he simply can't help himself.

(now watch as he "jacks" this thread when he responds. OCD)

Oh, here you go again, Dloyd. You made mention of a banana. That is an unspoken Markie Morgan no-no! Mark will, in his twisted mind, predictably view this as a reference to a phallic symbol and will yet again accuse you of being a homophobe.

funy I gues you have not been reading the NG closely if gogole were to shut down then it at worst only in venances me

There is no such thing as "gogole". You yet again show us why you have so many intellectual superiors in these groups.

Now, ya gotta admit. That is funny.
And we're not laughing with you, Mark.
We are laughing AT you.

sure I can I can even win the problem is not that finding a target
that also pay the judgement

but is it stiring the things to go around calling your foes child molestors and rapists and such . I don't do that indeed I am brave to sign my name to stuff you are not nobody deserves to be called a child molestor not even a real child molestor (those sick folks deserve a long quiet rest and such peace as their misdeeds allow them)

not even you Tom deserve being called a child molestor

Mark, Just ignore them.

They only tease you because of the stupid things you say when you follow up. Just ignore them and they'll give up.

Stop giving them reasons to tease you. It only makes you look more stupid.

Take a break from the radio groups for a while, Maybe work on your moon bounce some more.

Mark, this is not YOUR newsgroup no one is accountable to you, we can post anything we like and discuss anything we want. Just because you are unable to comprehend how the subject evolved, it's not everyone's problem, it is yours. You don't like it, tough shit. Your are under some misconception that everyone has to accept your Kookiness and your abnormal lifestyle, just becaues you have a ham license, we don't, and everytime you try to push you abnormal lifestyle agenda onto the group, we are going to push back.

You asked, "way does who anyone sleep with matter to discussion of Radio policy?"

I ask, what does your abnormal bi-sexual lifestyle have to do with amateur radio at all, yet you profess such on your HAM RADIO blog.

Again, you are the one connecting HAM RADIO to your BI-SEXUALITY, and bringing it onto the groups.

The moon is full and Roger is preparing another lunar filthfest.

Here's some info on your medical problem, Rog:

from: http://faculty.ncwc.edu/TOCONNOR/428/428lect16.htm

quote
DETAILED ANALYSIS OF THE SOCIOPATH

From the wild Irish slums of the 19th Century Eastern seaboard to the riot-torn anomic neighborhoods of Los Angeles, our society has always produced sociopaths who are quite often the products of illegitimacy, broken homes, and a lack of any bonding with male or societal authority. Some 70% of sociopaths come from fatherless homes. Father absence produces many consequences similar to the symptoms of sociopathy -- early, precocious
sexuality; antagonistic, deprecating attitude toward the opposite sex;
lack of interest
in bonding with a durable, stable mate; aggressive acting-out; excessive boasting;
and risk-taking behavior. Some 30% of children today are born out-of-wedlock, and another 30% live in divorced homes. These conditions - a problem of unsocialization - produce sociopathy. Furthermore, sociopaths tend to reproduce themselves, that is,
they produce more than own their share of illegitimate offspring themselves.

So what is a sociopath? You won't find criteria in the DSM IV or official psychiatric nomenclature, but the construct refers to the largest subgroup of APDs.
Most are males,

but an increasing number are female. They have otherwise normal temperaments (as opposed to psychopaths who have abnormal temperaments). Some are aggressive, fearless sensation seekers, and others are Machiavellian manipulators. A Machiavellian is a personality type who is a cross between an antisocial personality and a narcissist, and someone who also has an extremely high sense of entitlement. The one thing that all sociopaths have in common is that they are "too much" to handle for their parents or anyone else. It's common to refer to them as unsocialized, but the dyssocial sociopath does socialize to the mores and values of a dyssocial outgroup, like a gang. Let's explore the four (4) subtypes of sociopaths:

COMMON SOCIOPATHS are the largest subtype and have a weak or unelaborated conscience. They are not ashamed by the same things as you or I would be ashamed of. They are like feral children grown up, taking pleasures and gratifying impulses at every opportunity or temptation. They especially enjoy and take pride in bending or breaking the rules. As teenagers, they are often runaways. As adults, they are often geographically mobile, living in shelters, or taking advantage of welfare systems. They are experienced shoplifters. They have quite active sex lives. They are usually of average intelligence, but don't do well in school and never seem to break out of low-paying dead-end jobs. Nevertheless, they seem genuinely happy with their lives, unburdened by any sense of negative self-worth or the fact that they have not been a functional, contributing member of society.

ALIENATED SOCIOPATHS have never developed the ability to love, empathize, or affiliate in real life with another person. They will show more emotion toward their pet or a personal artifact than toward a person. Or, they may hate animals and live out their emotional life by watching TV (identification with soap opera characters is a common pattern). Dating and marriage relationships will be very barren and empty. They won't get along with the neighbors. They live in a shell. They have a cold, callous attitude toward human suffering or any social problem in the society they live in. They just don't care because it's outside their range of empathy. Most will believe they are justified in this because they feel they were cheated in some way themselves by society, and a few will be more than happy to rant and rave about it to anyone who listens. They are chronic complainers, and underneath it all, they would like to see nothing better than all of society destroyed.

AGGRESSIVE SOCIOPATHS derive strong, yet nonperverse gratification from harming others.
They like to hurt, frighten, tyrannize, bully, and manipulate. They do it for a sense of power and control, and will often only drop subtle hints about what they are up to.
They polish their aggressive, domineering manner in such a way to disguise any intimidation others might feel. They seek out positions of power, such as parent, teacher, bureaucrat, supervisor, or police officer. Their style is one of passive aggression as they systematically go about sabotaging the ideas of others to get their ideas in place. In their spare time, they like to hunt or occasionally do sadistic things like find stray dogs and cut them up. They are usually effective at getting their way, and are especially vindictive if resisted or crossed. They don't follow the social norm of reciprocity like others do.

DYSSOCIAL SOCIOPATHS identify and hold an allegiance with a dyssocial, outcast, or predatory subculture. Any subculture will do, as long as it runs counter to established authority. They are capable of intense loyalty, and even a feeling of guilt and shame, within such limited circles. They seem to continually fall upon bad luck and bad companions, however. While they will constantly complain that none of this is their fault, behind it all is a kind of self-defeating mechanism in the poor choices they made themselves.

The Greenlight Lounge
Phone: 906-523-4417
Chassell, MI 49916

Be sure to bring yer cents of humor with you.

Instead of karaoke, the Greenlight has a thespian showcase ever Saturday nite at 11 pm sharp. Each year they have a different theme for the showcase, and this year the theme is Native American berdaches and their customs and costumes. Right now, the thespian who has won the last five showcases is Mr. Morkie, and so he is Greenlight's reigning champion and the one to beat.

Besides that, the Greenlight has an enema room with its own beer keg and floor drain so that you can enjoy beer yer own way. This is a feature to be found in no other U.P. bar.

We have fun, fun, fun, fun, fun ever Saturday night, so put on yer leotards and get to stepping. Be thier or be square.

Mark, honestly I think you are just too illiterate at this point. As an example, look at your most recent post, you certainly don't end a sentence with the word "it" or "then", it is poor grammer. Instead of spending your time on here, why don't you spend some quality time using one of the simple grammer course available on the net, such as the one available at www.grammarmadeeasy.com. Certainly, it would not hurt your credibility to at least attempt to look like you have some writing ability in accord with your alleged level of education. I know you have dyslexia, but as you can see, I am proof that you can overcome with a little effort. Why don't you give it a try.

I don't give a rats ass who posts what, did at one time, but no longer, I told you my goal is to make you dance just like a chimp on a leash, and like I said before, you dance so well with each and every post.

The point is the only reason that was posted was to express the fact that moparhoLICK is frustrated because he cannot have gay sex with a ham. He could look up lambda members and maybe get lucky, but lambda and nambla both threw him out cuz he is TOO gay. That queen is so gay he has to use goo gone for toothpaste.

All of these posts originate from les(bian) moparhoLICK.

I have a life, and a very good one. However, you have no crediblity at all, you have been killfiled by almost everyone, the only reason I continue to see your posts is because I read the groups through Google. Once again, you are unable to spell, perhaps you should take my advice. Nevertheless, the word you butchered is spelled, spelling, not "speeling".

Yes, you might as well go out into the desert and scream "Give me

No you collectively try to bother everyone. Nevertheless, speaking of kids, have you managed to give your wife one yet, she seemed pretty desperate in her post. That old biological clock is a bitch.

First of all bird brain, the word is English, with a capital E, and my opinion it is not contrary to the fact, just because you think that something is a lie, does not mean it is so, you are about as intelligent as a grape, therefore you don't know shit about anything. The fact is you post and act like a retarded maniac, trashing the news groups such as RRAP, RRAM, and RRCB. Multiple people post about you all the time, calling you a Kook, asshole, cocksucker, and other names to boot. You earned every bit of crap that you receive and the names you are called. I hope Roger Wiseman does meet you one day. I hope he walks right up to you and without a word punches you so hard in you eye that they will have to use forceps to retrieve what's left from the back of your empty skull.

Then why don't I see posts from anyone but you complaining about me, yet there a post from dozens of different people complaining about you, it appears that you are full of shit as usual, and YOU ARE THE PROBLEM. Now Dance Markie.

marqueer, why do you think the radio groups are about gay sex?
marqueer is actually dragging for a homosexual encounter.

I believe that you are right. I think Mark is hoping that one day, if he keeps posting his faggotry tirade on the amateur boards, he will get an e-mail from a secret like minded bi-sexual ham, so he can have a homo ham buddy.

there have not been a dozen people posting in this gruop for years if ever (unless you count all woger seperate personas then you might have a point)

the count complaining about me is 4 people and some anymice all of whom could be the same person so giving you cmax credit their may have been 6 people ever complaining about me and 4 o-6 other poster in RRAP esping support or at least neutral positions

if you could be honest you might get further

No lie Mark, don't forget the ones from the CB board, kook board and ponds boards where you cross post. I think it my be more than dozen.
Maybe you should be honest for once.

Markie, my posts are formatted correctly for posting through Google, I don't use some bullshit remailer like you, and since the NG's reside on Google, it appears that you are the one with the format problem.

So Dave Heil has a Yellow car, is that suppose to be some secret code. Don't tell me that you now think I am Woger. Every week you come out with some other new person of who you think I am, and once again I will say WRONG. Better luck next time Mark.

Mark, why would I need a group where everyone is stupid when I have you? You seem to have enough stupidity to cover the entire group.
Like I've said and you can believe what you want to believe, I really don't care, I only post under this nym or my own call, I don't need mulitple nyms, I have no need, one is sufficent and appears that it still is because you have been unable to detect who I am. Think for a minute Mark, what purpose would it serve to have multiple nyms? None.

Get off your lazy arse and learn to spell.

Others have surmounted the very difficulty that beleagures you, and if they can, so can you.

You are simply too lazy to make the effort, just as you were with your Ham

SB SPCL ARL ARLX002
ARLX002 Canada Ending 136 kHz and 5 MHz Special Authorizations

In accordance with an agreement between Radio Amateurs of Canada (RAC) and Industry Canada, that country's telecommunications regulatory agency, special authorizations allowing some Canadian radio amateurs to conduct experiments at 136 kHz and 5 MHz will terminate June 30. "These experiments have had, as one objective, the provision of data that would support the objectives of RAC and the IARU for possible new allocations to the Amateur Service at these frequencies," the RAC said.

Future special authorizations will depend on the outcomes of World Radiocommunication Conference 2007 (WRC-07), which gets under way October 22, the RAC added. New worldwide, secondary amateur allocations at 135.7 to 137.8 kHz and in the 5 MHz range are up for possible consideration at WRC-07.

RAC Newfoundland-Labrador Section Manager Joe Craig, VO1NA, described some of his LF experiences in "The Transatlantic on 2200 Meters," that appeared in July 2005 issue of QST. Craig also has been in the forefront of 60 meter experimentation in Canada through the Marconi Radio Club of Newfoundland. In 2003, club station VO1MRC worked N1RL in Massachusetts for the first Canada-US two-way amateur contact on 60 meters. There's more information on the VO1MRC 5 MHz Experiment Web pages at, http://www.ucs.mun.ca/~jcraig/5megex.html.

And it came to pass in the Shire of Mistig Waetru, Lady Avagaye bas Ysaac, a portly, hideous creature, but with a powerful ladystick, did send the order that all transgressors must be dealt with harshly by whining them to death. Avagay did send the only representative of her court, the court jester/fool to try to handle this task, Morkie of Moronia. So, the first order of business was for Morkie to quaff a few pints down at Ye Greenlight, and that didn't mean he enjoyed the mead.

Morkie stumbled back to the "castle" past the moat of junk outside (to protect from "invaders" like the many rats and roaches) and logged onto the internet. Morkie stood guard online and waited until some of his incoherent posts were answered. Morkie used his abnormal functioning brain to post nonsense, he never admits his mistakes, no matter how wrong he is, the correct procedure as outlined by Avagay when questioned is to LIE and then provide follow up responses that are so butchered and misspelled, that you will have effectively covered your rear by causing any inquirer to just give up out of frustration trying to decode your jumbling of words. However, if you fail, slowly backpedal over time but never admit fault, then when they are not expecting it, go on a tirade about something unimportant but extrapolate it into something outlandish. Like claiming victory when you clearly get your dumbass handed to you as Morkie does quite often. Morkie can then go back and report to Avagay, who handles the finances and has to clear everything Morkie does, who proceeds to reward Morkie by rear entry of her ladystick. Such is the life in the Shire of Mistig Waertu.

The Greenlight Lounge
Phone: 906-523-4417
Chassell, MI 49916

Be sure to bring yer cents of humor with you.

Instead of karaoke, the Greenlight has a thespian showcase ever Saturday nite at 11 pm sharp. Each year they have a different theme for the showcase, and this year the theme is Native American berdaches and their customs and costumes. Right now, the thespian who has won the last five showcases is Mr. Morkie, and so he is Greenlight's reigning champion and the one to beat.

Besides that, the Greenlight has an enema room with its own beer keg and floor drain so that you can enjoy beer yer own way. This is a feature to be found in no other U.P. bar.

We have fun, fun, fun, fun, fun ever Saturday night, so put on yer leotards and get to stepping. Be thier or be square.

You seem more familiar with using blow up dolls, lend him one of yours. You are so used to dating your hand anyways.
In fact Pink wrote this song after meeting you!:

U + Ur Hand (Pink)

Uh uh uh uh uh uh uh oh
Uh uh uh uh uh uh uh oh
Check it out
Going out
On the late night
Looking tight
Feeling nice
It's a cock fight
I can tell
I just know
That it's going down
Tonight
At the door we don't wait cause we know them
At the bar six shots just beginning
That's when dickhead put his hands on me
But you see

I'm not here for your entertainment
You don't really want to mess with me tonight
Just stop and take a second
I was fine before you walked into my life

Cause you know it's over
Before it begins
Keep your drink just give me the money
It's just you and your hand tonight

Uh uh uh uh uh uh uh oh
Uh uh uh uh uh uh uh oh

Midnight
I'm drunk
I don't give a fuck
Wanna dance
By myself
Guess you're outta luck
Don't touch
Back up
I'm not the one
Buh bye
Listen up it's just not happening
You can say what you want to your boyfriends
Just let me have my fun tonight
Alright

I'm not here for your entertainment
You don't really want to mess with me tonight
Just stop and take a second
I was fine before you walked into my life
Cause you know it's over
Before it begins
Keep your drink just give me the money
It's just you and your hand tonight

Break break
Break it down

In the corner with your boys you bet up five bucks
To get the girl that just walked in but she thinks you suck
We didn't get all dressed up just for you to see
So quit spilling your drinks on me yeah

You know who you are High fivin, talkin shit, but you're going home alone aren't cha?

Cause I'm not here for your entertainment
No
You don't really want to mess with me tonight
Just stop and take a second
Just stop and take a second
I was fine before you walked into my life
Cause you know it's over
Know it's over

Before it begins
Keep your drink just give me the money
It's just you and your hand tonight
It's just you and your hand

I'm not here for your entertainment
No no no
You don't really want to mess with me tonight
Just stop and take a second
Just take a second
I was fine before you walked into my life
Cause you know it's over
Before it begins
Keep your drink just give me the money
It's just you and your hand tonight
Yeah oh

If you'd actually read the thing, a little hard when you spend so much time spewing, you'd see that "they" haven't lost anything.

It was temporary permission, to test the waters, presumably to get a handle on whether or not they are suitable for a real allocation.

SSTV was only allowed by special permission in the early days when Copthorne McDonald got things started in the late fifties. It wasn't until the late sixties that it became available to all, albeit those with enough license privilege. But if the temporary work hadn't been done, then the long term permission likely would have never happened.

There is not now, nor was there ever (except maybe in the very very early days of radio) a 136KHz allocation in Canada, and neither is there a 5MHz allocation. There was simply temporary permission for some.

Marqueer Morgan confesses his homosexual and tiny dick status
when he talks about why his first wife left him
(the more plausible scenario) in http://nimbusters.info/info/read.php?board=1&id=284391:
"no I left her after catch in bed with 2 nigger bucks while thought I was on an army field exercise"

Apparently, Marqueer is a racist against blacks, too! What's the matter, Morkie, did one of them also do you in the shower in the latrine area?

I actually read the thing; carefully. I even traced underneath the careful enough for you?

Indeed. And now that permission is gone. Kind of like the USA

maybe marqueer and DOUgay can get a bunch of the pond dudes together for a gay sex orgy.
the first radio club based on ponds AND dick sucking!

then they can travel the world sucking off each other in all sorts of

FYI..TYNK is a freaking split tail but she does like anal.....especially if a bristlenose catfish is used in conjunction with geting her fudge packed. You should see her deep throat an angel fish dick!

Perhaps, but those queens and hussys in rec.ponds.moderated love it any way they can get it......
I have to think that some of those so called split tails just have to have a sausage in those panties and the hard tails of rpm have snappers......but we do know one thing in common with them all and that is none f them have a back bone of any kind.

This post and most of the crossposts are the droppings of one Roger Wiseman of 610 Glen Haven Avenue in Glendale, West Virginia. He is also an Amatuer Radio operator with the callsign AB8MQ.

A Google search of his name or his callsign will turn up reams of information about this 50 year old divorced troll and Internet stalker, most of it bad.

I have several pond books and can say I learned MORE online than from the books. Our first pond was put in according to a Tetra Pond Book (a year before we got online) and the information was awful. We have to redo
the
berm on this first pond as we did the larger one this past summer.
There was little mention of soil types and how to stabilize the berm - and almost nothing about predators.

The pond

> 'world' doesn't need another poorly designed, poorly constructed pond.

Which you can make quite easily following the advice in some of the books out there. The pond world doesn't need any artificial ponds at all for that matter! LOL!!! :-) Ponds are fun, a hobby and certainly not necessary for the world to go on.

Some people are on tight budgets and that should be considered - not everyone has a 6 figure income.

Oh have I got the answer for you..... from an earlier post

"Here I sit in a tent next to a lake with my hands shaking and the coffee helping my nerves. What has this got to do with building a water garden you ask? Well, sit back and let me share the story of my "little water garden" that started a few months back.
Boy, these ponds sure look like a lot of fun to build and our neighbor
fred up the street said it was easy to install yourself.
So I started to dig a hole and everything was going great until I hit
"the Rock", which would later prove to be my demise. I thought I could dig around this rock by hand so I dug and dug and well you get the picture. I went through two wooden handled shovels trying to leverage the rock out so I ordered a steel shaft shovel from biggertools.com on the internet. Of course I paid the extra for the overnight delivery(I didn't want to slow my progress). It was delivered the next day by 8:30 AM.
By 9:30 AM I was rushed to the doctor's office by ambulance.....why you ask? Well the steel shafted shovel weighed in at 90 lbs. After digging for about an hour I felt a snap in my back which caused me in turn to drop the shovel on my big toe which would have been fine had I been wearing boots...unfortunately I was wearing sandals which do not have steel reinforced straps!!!
After a few stitches to my toe, corrective shoes and 2 weeks of therapy for my back and I was as good as well, well a forty year old.
Back to the rock....Well, I called explosives-r-us and they assured me they could handle this rock. Everything was going well until they pushed the button. The good news is my pond is going to be much bigger than originally thought. The bad news is it blew out all of my neighbors windows. I told him, look you will get much better ventilation this summer that way. He found no humor in the moment.....my insurance company assured me I was covered under the "idiot clause" in my insurance, of course less my deductible.

I hopped into my escort and sped off to the local pond store to get my 30 'x40' liner. With the help of the employees we dropped the liner into the trunk off by sliding it off of the forklift.
I didn't think the noise from my bumper dragging was all that bad..I just turned the 8 track up louder and I didn't notice the sparks from the bumper starting the prairie fire in the lot next to my house.
I pulled into the drive and my wife and I pulled the liner out after using several successful words I learned from my dad as a kid that always helped in situations like this. It was after I got the liner out that I noticed the smoke coming from the back yard....remember the sparks
from my bumper?
With a little help from the local volunteer fire dept. we had the fire out in a couple of hours. Man that smoke really does burn your eyes and the looks from my wife were pretty painful also.
The good news is the fire killed all the grass around my pond and now landscaping will be much easier I pointed out to my wife.
The rest of the pond construction was pretty uneventful except for
the new electrical panel we had to install to handle the 25,000 gph pump I had to have and the fact that the city tracked the lowering of the local reservoir by two feet to me filling up our new pond.
I was able to stock my water garden with some great Koi...the bad news is my mother-in-law found out I had hocked some of her jewelry to fund this purchase. She has decided not to press charges now and the police said
the ink will wear off of my fingertips in a few weeks.
Which brings me back to the tent and the coffee. My wife said I can move back in as soon as I pay her mother back for the fish and I can find someone to get this Koi tattoo(don't ask) off of my body.
I have had to take two other jobs to pay off the pond related expenses
as follows
2 wooden shovels @ $20.00 ea. $40.00
1 Steel shafted shovel @ $40.00 $40.00
1 Overnight delivery $60.00
Doctor's Office Visit $100.00

Physical Therapy $375.00
Explosives-R-Us $950.00
Insurance deductible $500.00
Pond Equipment & liner $1250.00
Repair Escort Bumper* $150.00
Have Ford Dealer repair bumper correctly $649.00
Donation to volunteer fire dept.
$500.00
New Electrical panel $700.00
City Fine for lowering reservoir
$275.00
Cruise to pay off mother in law $3700.00
Tatoo(From Vinnys Tatoo & Garage) $245.00 Second Honeymoon with wife to Save marriage $5000.00
Camping Gear $875.00
I am now back with my wife and the pond was worth every penny......the lesson, do lots of research, read books, magazines, go on tours and then dig in! Ponding is really very easy and will provide you with a lifetime of enjoyment. Phil Geusz

"I got a copy of the Daphnian (the bulletin of the Boston Aquarium Society) in the mail a couple weeks back, and have been forgetting almost daily to post my thanks here to whoever reprinted my silly little article there. (I carefully kept the name of my beneficiary on file, but a hard-drive crash scrambled it for me.)
I also want to thank the list as a whole- if it had not been for the friendly atmosphere here I never would have posted something so frivolous. And yet it resulted in something very important to me- the first time I have ever seen real print. And in the prime inside-cover spot, too...
I bought everyone at work a soda the day that publication arrived. I can't do that for everyone here, but I would if I could.
And my fish are fine. The house, car, and retaining wall, well, work progresses.... Phil"

You said the magic or dreaded word "Koi". Research Koi ponds as they are typically deeper, include bottom drains, settling chambers, Skimmer, UV and filters that may include anything from vortex systems, bead filters, trickle towers, or combos of these items. I built my 16x14x4 with BD, setting pond, bead filter, Skimmer with UV and 45 EPDM liner for $4000. This includes $1000 for coping rocks, plus landscaping, also the cost of concrete block, cement, rebar, plumbing, plants, pump, ect.

In 6 years my Koi have grown to be between 6-8 lbs. They are huge poop makers, so plan accordingly to save headaches down the road.

Happy ponding.

.... nope, dont have to

http://weloveteaching.com/mypond/mypond.htm
.... my pond is made of 2x4 greenwood sides with greenwood plywood, carpet padding, permalon liner, the filter is 2x8 pine with 2x5 cedar front on the filter and around the front. I DO have a big ass air blower @ $400 but it isnt totally necessary. I have a pump for the water fall. Once a year I pull out the plants (to take em inside for winter) and suction out the crud in the filter with a wet vac. I do use a UV light but the filter really sucks the rest out. The pond has been up since 2000 and I can still see the stones knocked out of my lily pot and a couple wrinkles in the liner on the bottom and have never cleaned the bottom at all.
All summer I walk out, sit down, feed the fish. once a week or when I remember I squish the snails attached to the little wimp pump that feeds the UV. A couple times in the summer if I think the water is slowing I pull up the pump to clean off the grate that keeps junk outta the pump. A couple times a year I run 500 gallons or so out and replace. Other than that ..... I just enjoy it immensely. absolutely cheap and simplicity itself to take care of. Ingrid

I couldn't believe we had snow in town here in southern oregon (usa) (not at my house lower down though) just a few days ago. Man - we might have a real winter this year at last, you go ozone! With all of the garbage that was/is going on here in this newsgroup I had actually thought you were one bad dude roy! It's cool now that I see who the real perpetrator is you're all right
in my book roy, later! P.s. - my digital signature is above.

~ jan Jan this brings back a memory for me. One year winter came early and DH did not put the winter fertilizer down in the fall. So it sat in the shed. Then in like late February he put it out- on top of the snow. Yes- on top of the snow! So the snow melted- like 7 inches of it- and some of it ran in to my pond, and in March the water was so pea green thick you could cut it with a knife. The fish were gasping- we set the pumps out early and unbelievably they survived.
I don't think he will do that again. lol -- Koitoy

Yikes! How did he manage to spread it?

I got it put down Friday, course the drop spreader (a cheap plastic one that I brought 10 years ago) broke after just a few rows. The level that opens and closes the hopper broke clean off, so DS put a clamp on it and I just did the best I could with an open-continuously hopper. I put very little close to the ponds, and we got a little rain to wet it but not run-off, so I think I'm safe. :) ~ jan
